

A JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Sunday A Notable Day At St. Peter's Church—Bells Christened—Benediction Of Gifts

St. Peter's Episcopal Church, of Rockland, founded in 1852, held a jubilee celebration Sunday, at which two bells were christened. Services of the day included Parish Mass and Sermon at 9:30; Vespers at 4 o'clock at which there was a benediction of gifts to the church; a Parish Supper Jubilee, closing with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

An 800-pound bell, the gift of Nathan Farwell, a member of the Confirmation Class of 1944, was sprinkled from the balcony by Rev. William E. Berger, rector of St. Thomas' Church of Camden, as Rev. Ernest Ogden Kenyon, rector of St. Peter's, christened the bell St. Gabriel, in memory of Annie Farwell Burpee.

The bell, of pleasing tone, was cast in Cincinnati and was used for many years on Stanton plantation on the Mississippi, 10 miles from New Orleans, for calling laborers. The plantation was the property of Richard Milliken, the bell was presented by him.

(Continued on Page Six)

H. J. Weisman M. D.

Will Be In His Office Daily Practice Limited To

EAR, NOSE AND THROAT and

EXTERNAL DISEASES OF THE EYE

Hours By Appointment

Tel. 160, Rockland

76 Limerock St.

44-46

War Bond Premiere

An Important Announcement Is Made By Manager
Dandeneau

The people of Rockland will have a chance to help in winning the war and at the same time enjoy themselves, according to announcement made today by L. J. Dandeneau of the local motion picture exhibitors' campaign for the Fifth War Loan Drive and manager of the Strand Theatre.

Tuesday night, June 27 at 7:30 p. m. the theatre will hold a "War Bond Premiere" of Betty Grable in "Pin Up Girl," as part of its contribution to the picture, which has never been shown before in this city, is by war bond only. The amount of the bond will determine the quality of the seat; the better seats going, of course, to the buyers of the higher priced bonds.

The "War Bond Premiere," which has been a feature motion picture exhibitor co-operation in preceding drives, is one of the top bond selling devices yet hit upon. Emphasis is upon the sale of the Series E

War Savings Bonds, the popular priced investment favored by the average citizen.

According to Manager Dandeneau the local War Bond Premiere is expected to attract a capacity crowd. The details were worked out in conjunction with the local War Finance Committee Chairman, and will be announced shortly in this paper.

Tickets are now available at the special War Bond Premiere booth and at Strand and Park Theatres and are available to purchasers of bonds between June 7 and 27.

It is important to note that tickets for this Bond Premiere will be available only at the Strand and Park Theatres and at the War Bond Booth, and no deviation from this rule will be made. Buy Your Bonds Early and Get Your Seats.

Army-Navy "Victims"

Why List Did Not Include
Calvin Pease—A Memorial
Suggested

Editor of The Courier-Gazette—

In your issue of Friday, June 2, you published a list of 10 men from Knox County who have made the supreme sacrifice in the present World War.

The name of the first man from the war—that of Calvin Pease of Port Clyde—is not in the list. Calvin Pease was a member of the crew of a freighter which was torpedoed while on a voyage to South America.

Harold Anderson, also of Port Clyde, was one of the crew and was

INVASION BEGUN

News was flashed by the radio at 2:30 this morning that the Allied invasion of Europe had begun. Normandy on the northern coast of France was the site selected, and co-operating with the vast army is the mightiest fleet in history. Allied American, British and Canadian forces were already battling 10 miles inland when the news reached America, and parachutists had landed in Normandy. The point of landing—or rather the several points—constitutes a direct threat to the German airfields. Leading the invasion forces is Gen. Montgomery, hero of the African desert battles. Addressing the Army prior to the embarkation Gen. Eisenhower said:

"The eyes of the world are upon you. The tide has turned. Accept nothing else than full victory."

To Have Field Day

Four Knight Templar Commanders Will Fraternize
At Vinalhaven

Palestine Commandery, Knights

Templar, of Belfast will go to Vinalhaven Sunday, June 25 for a joint field day and outing with Claremont Commandery, Rockland and Camden Commandery of Camden as guests of De Valois Commandery of Vinalhaven.

The members of Palestine Commandery, with Harold Kelley, commander, will go to Rockland by car Sunday morning, and will leave Rockland at 9 o'clock on the steamship Vinalhaven, No. 2, with the other Commanderies and will return to Rockland at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Belfast and Rockland Bands will unite and go to Vinalhaven with the Commanderies. A shore dinner will be served by De Valois Commandery, and sports and games are planned.

Percy McPhee, commander of Claremont of Rockland is chairman of the committee in charge and is being assisted by the Camden commander, and by Commander Harold Kelley of Belfast. Tickets are available from Austin J. Fernald in Belfast, and any member of the commandery is eligible to attend this field day and outing.

—Belfast Journal

Save money and time by having your floors covered with

INLAID LINOLEUM

We have many beautiful patterns
In the yard goods and in the blocks

Floors Contracted For and Guaranteed

Phone or Call For FREE ESTIMATE
TIME PAYMENTS

Trinidad Warehouse Store

466 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND, ME.

45-48

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT
CATES
FOR REPRESENTATIVE
TO LEGISLATURE

45-48

COME ONE, COME ALL COMMUNITY BLDG.

Friday, June 9th

TONY & JUANITA

And Their Big Stage And Radio Jamboree

LOU MORA

(The Great Magician)

CELIA MAE

(Texas Cowgirl)

ANITA GIRARD

(Acrobatic Dancer)

And Others

Doors Open 7:00 P. M.

Adults 55c, Including Tax

Listen To Tony & Juanita 1:45 P. M. Daily, Station WGAN, Portland

45-46

PHIL LIBBY

(Maine's Funniest Comedian)

LITTLE JOEY

(3-3 Yodeling Cowboy)

Big Amateur Contest

(Cash Prize)

Show Starts 8:30

Children 35c, Tax Included

45-46

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

FOR STATE SENATOR

WILLIAM T. SMITH

OF THOMASTON

44-48

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

KNOX COUNTY PRESENTS

ITS FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

FERNALD FOR GOVERNOR

This advertisement paid for by John W. Lane

37-48

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

A Rockland woman informs me that the old Point schoolhouse on Pearl street was omitted by "The Meddler" in his recently published list.

While we do not enjoy the personal acquaintance of the Black Cat Columnist of The Courier-Gazette we have been joshing one another through our respective columns and we thought we had found a kindred spirit. To our horror and amazement, however, we find that he isn't keen for dandelion greens, which we supposed every red blooded man, who wanted to put iron in his blood, liked. He says the only way he can tolerate them is as a side dish for a hot lobster. And that's another thing with which we are not in accord. We'll take our lobster, like our gingerale, cold, if you please—Bridgton News.

Now I see plainly that I must have Brother Shorey down here and convert him to my favorite delicacy, which is boiled lobster, straight from the kettle. And if he doesn't give it his editorial o.k. I will have plenty of dandelion greens for him—hot or cold. After the other war is over, or while it is still on.

I had the misfortune not to be present when my good friend S. Newton Broadbent of Port Clyde called at this office the other day. Mr. Broadbent has lately returned from Florida where his unusually keen powers of observation enabled him to write the "Broadbent Letters" which were so widely read in The Courier-Gazette during the season.

In my boyhood days, living on a farm it was my annual custom to make an annual search for the season's earliest wild flowers, and chief among them was the jack-in-the-pulpit. Dropping in at the Moran Arboretum the other day I chanced to mention that I had not seen any for years. And what did the autumn-haired lady from "The Meddler" do but bring in some splendid specimens from her own home. Stop and admire them if you can keep your eyes off these attractive young women long enough.

Painted finger nails, painted toe nails, painted lips, and now some of the girls have gone back to first principles by restoring the style of hair known as pig-tails. And they look just as good as in the days when we used to toss burdocks into them.

In attendance upon the 50th anniversary exercises of Ivy Chapter, QES, in Warren Friday night, George W. Walker was reminded of another 50th anniversary—his membership in the Warren Knights of Pythias lodge. Mr. Walker was a charter member of Ivy Chapter, and served it as patron nine years. Not many worthwhile things have escaped him during his residence in Warren.

Austin Romer, the efficient janitor of the Grand Army building painted the mortars and cannon-balls yesterday—just in time for the invasion.

Paraphrasing a popular song—"It's invasion time in Normandy."

One year ago Mrs. Joshua N. Southard was re-elected president of the Home for Aged Women—The Alumni reception was attended by 250. Francis E. Havenner was elected president—Among the deaths: Thomaston, Mrs. Tillie Burkett Oxtun, 76; Rockland, Mrs. Maurice Moran, 60; Thomaston, Millard Gilmore, 80; Vinalhaven, La Forrest Maker, 56.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

DAWBREAK
A wind came up out of the sea,
And said, "O mist, make room for me."
It hailed the ships, and cried, "Sail on,
Ye mariners, the night is gone,
And hurried landward far away,
Crying, "Awake! it is the day."
It said unto the forest, "Shout!
Hang all your leafy banners out!"
It touched the wood-bird's folded wing
And said, "O bird, awake and sing."
And over the farms, O Chanticleer,
Your clarion blow, the day is near."
It whispered to the fields of corn,
Bow down, and hail the coming morn."
It shouted the beffry-tower,
"Awake, O bell! proclaim the hour."
It crossed the churchyard with a sigh,
And said, not yet! in quiet lie.
—Henry W. Longfellow

HASKELL BROS.

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE MOVING

TEL. 25—ROCKLAND, ME.

45 MAIN STREET

45-46

YE ANCHOR INN

OWL'S HEAD MAINE

Will Open

WED., JUNE 14

Shore Dinners

Chicken Dinners

Steak Dinners

Special Orders

Catering To Parties and Clubs

Telephone Rockland 385-21 For Reservations

44-47

ANNOUNCEMENT

In accordance with the will of the late Miss Lucy C. Farnsworth, the homestead at No. 21 Elm Street, Rockland, will be open to the public on Wednesday, June 7, from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Admission $1.00.

Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company,

Trustee

44-48

GIRLS AND WOMEN WANTED

YOU

CAN HELP WIN THE WAR

Get in the fight and pack essential foods for our fighters. Girls and Women wanted at once in a clean sanitary food plant. Good pay and working conditions. Those living within 25 miles of Rockland, should call us on the telephone and free transportation will be furnished.

LAFAYETTE PACKING CO.

Telephone Rockland 1271 and 1272

ROCKLAND :: MAINE

The Courier-Gazette

Arise, walk through the land in the length of it, and in the breadth of it; for I will give it unto thee.—Gen. 13:17.

Book Review

What Became of Anna Bolton, Author, Louis Bromfield. Publisher, Harper & Bros., New York.

This is the story of what can happen to an American. Born on the wrong side of the track, small town, no family mid West, with ambition and determination to outstep all hurdles.

Trained to beauty and hard as steel, married to wealth and soon widowed. Mind brilliant with desire for broad influence. In fact to be a social leader in the world of London's best. That was the determination of Anna Bolton, born in Lewisburg of the mid-west and of drunkard father and scrub woman mother.

Ambition put Demosthenes where he was. Napoleon to try to conquer Europe. In fact, ambition is the springboard of many world careers. Look at Hitler and that gang. Anna had wide ambition. She headed all her class in every study because she worked for that fact. She had natural pride and refinement beyond her birth. With stiff neck and sensitive pride of accomplishment in her school work.

Anna inherited all the best in her mother, even though fate did not lift her higher than domestic duties. She was expert in this line and so treated. A book to hold one to the end and make one wonder what it's all about this life we treat so queerly and cavalierly.

Kathleen S. Fuller.

WORTH WORKING FOR

Scholarship To Aid Persons Who Wish To Make Librarianship His Aim

A $500 scholarship is being offered by the Maine Library Association to assist in the professional education of a Maine man or woman who wishes to make librarianship his life work. Any officer or member of the executive committee of the professional association of Maine librarians will receive applications from interested candidates and all candidates will be considered by the executive committee.

Officers of the association who will receive applications for the scholarship or scholarships are: president, Merle R. Griffith, Dixfield; vice-president, Mary D. Herrick, Colby college library, Waterville; treasurer, T. Eola Mayo, Bangor Public Library, Bangor; and executive committee members: Mary E. Tobey, Waterville Public Library, Waterville; L. Felix Randlett, Bangor Public Library, Bangor; and N. Orwin Rush, Colby college library, Waterville.

Masonry Years Ago

Recalled By Documents Found Among Possession Of Late Judge C. K. Miller

Frank H. Miller, former Camden man, now in business at Hampden, was a caller at The Courier-Gazette office the other day and brought with him two old-time Masonic documents which he found while searching through the be-

SEAT COVERS

Save the interior of your car

We have a complete stock of Seat Covers to fit any car

88796

Miller's Garage
ROCKLAND
USED CARS

50,000 PLANTS

For a VICTORY GARDEN, flower and vegetable plants such as Astors, Stocks, Zinnias, Marigolds, Lobelia, Petunias, Salpiglossis, Pansies, Forget-me-nots, Larkspur, Lupin, Columbine, White Alyssum, Calendulas, Feverfew, Snapdragon Salvia, Bachelor Buttons, etc.

VEGETABLE PLANTS
Cabbage, Red Cabbage, Celery, Cauliflower, Sage, Sweet Peppers, Broccoli, Tomato, Lettuce, Cucumber, Parsnips, Squash, Onion, Chives, Asparagus, Hot Peppers, etc.

Also iron Window Boxes, Trellises, Bird Houses, Iron Rabbits, Vigoro, Flower Vases, Plant Stakes, etc.

It's going to be a hard struggle next winter so get your hoe and go to it. Most of these plants will sell for the same prices.

EDWIN A. DEAN

TEL. 671-J

ROCKLAND, MAINE

THE COURIER-GAZETTE

Editor, FRANK A. WINSLOW
Associate Editor, MRS. WILLIAM O. FULLER

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1855 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

Subscriptions $3.00 per year, payable in advance; single copies four cents. Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

[EDITORIAL]

YES, IT IS "POOR POLITICS"

Of course ethics play no part in politics, but this eleventh hour attempt of some of his opponents to link Horace Hildreth, Republican candidate for Governor, in this month's primaries, up with the power interests, is not only ill-advised, but it is poor politics. Mr. Hildreth's twin brother Charles, who is associated with the Emery Waterhouse Co., in Portland, married the late Walter Wyman's daughter, but beyond that neither of them have any connection with the power interests. Dragging that skeleton out from the closet would appear to be an indication of weakness, on the part of those who would prefer somebody rather than Hildreth as the Republican candidate.—Bridgton News

Following its time-honored custom The Courier-Gazette has maintained a strict neutrality concerning the gubernatorial candidates, but ready to give staunch support to the polls to whichever of the three strong candidates receives the nomination. We have noted with approval the absence of "mud-slinging" up to the present moment, sincerely hoping that the same policy would be pursued until the close of the primary campaign. Thoughtless opponents of certain candidates in past years have sought to injure their chances by intimating that they are connected in some manner with big corporations, such as the Central Maine Power Company. Editor Shorey of the Bridgton News exposes one of these attempts when he explains that it is Mr. Hildreth's twin brother who married the late Walter Wyman's daughter, but that neither of the twins is connected with the power interests.

We join the Bridgton News in deploring such underhanded political attacks, on either a candidate or the power company to which reference is undoubtedly made. The Central Maine Power Company needs no sponsors; its developments throughout the State speak eloquently for themselves. The Central Maine payroll is one impressive factor in Maine's industrial affairs, and no corporation ever had more loyal or faithful workers. Without the capital invested by the Central Maine very few localities in this State would be provided with the privilege now being enjoyed.

INDIANA OPPOSES DEWEY

We cannot help wondering as to the significance of the Republican State convention in Indiana, which was the last State to choose delegates to the National Convention so soon to assemble in Chicago. The Hoosier convention not only refused to endorse Gov. Dewey, but according to an Associated Press despatch "thundered its rejection of the proposal." The lack of Indiana's 29 votes—most of them, at least—might mean that the "stop Dewey" movement is much more serious than anybody had thought. At the present moment Dewey is said to have 391 unchallenged votes, and enough promises are claimed for him to assure nomination on the first ballot.

The recent activities of Gov. Bricker would seem to indicate that the Ohio candidate has far from given up the fight. As we remarked months back "strange things happen in political conventions."

"TOTAL VICTORY" NECESSARY

Pope Pius XII, in a speech to the College of Cardinals, expressed hope that peace soon would appear on Rome's hills and over the whole world but added that a demand for total victory might prolong the war. It may not be out of place to remark that a "prolonged war" deplorable as it is, might be preferable to an early peace which might again prove of a temporary character. And can it be denied that Germany, Italy and Japan were planning domination over all of the countries on both sides of the water?

ARRIVAL IN ROME REWARDED

Received with cheers and kisses the Americans entered Rome Sunday, the campaign for possession of the Eternal City having been won after a long, hard and costly fight. But if our own losses have been grievous thinking of the plight in which the Germans find themselves, losing thousands upon thousands of men, and tremendously valuable munitions and supplies. With the Russians knocking at his back door and the British, Americans and French banging at his front door Adolf Hitler is having hard work keeping up with the times.

NOMINATIONS COST MONEY

Many Maine men imbued with gubernatorial aspirations have refrained from entering the lists because of the prohibitive cost attaching to "two" elections. This can be readily understood after reading the primary expense accounts of the three candidates who are now seeking the Republican nomination—$14,201 for Roy L. Fernald, $5,435 for Horace A. Hildreth and $122 for F. Ardine Richardson.

FARMERS NOT BEING FAVORED

Exhorted to raise more crops, and exerting every effort to do so, Maine farmers are lamenting the lack of co-operation on the part of the Weather Bureau. Between the Spring drought and the June frosts the path to Victory Gardens is none too rosy.

longings of his father the late Judge Charles K. Miller.

One concerned the appointment of his great grandfather, John Miller as district deputy grand master in 1856. The District was then a broad one comprising Lincoln Lodge of Wiscasset, Orient of Thomaston, St. George of Warren, Alna of Damariscotta, King Solomon's of Waldoboro, Bristol of Bristol, Aurora and Rockland of Rockland, and Eureka of St. George.

The other document contained

WORKING FOR VICTORY

T4 Sgt. Charles Rogers, son of Mrs. Clara M. Lymburner, of 35 James street, Rockland, has a new address which may be obtained from his mother. Sergeant Rogers has recently been transferred from Camp Gordon Johnson, Fla., where he was stationed several months.

Franklin Burton Comery, son of Mrs. Lillian Comery of Thomaston, has been promoted from ensign to lieutenant, junior grade, in the Navy Air Corps. Lieut. (j.g.) Comery has been flying Navy Catalina bombers in the South Pacific during the last 11 months.

Pvt. Adelbert A. French of Rockland has arrived in North Africa, according to word received by Mrs. French of 89 Cedar street. Private French entered service in November, 1943 and received training at Fort McLean, Ala., and Fort George Meade, Md. His address may be obtained from Mrs. French, telephone 1051-M.

S. Boyd Banks, son of Mrs. Garfield Dolliver of Thomaston, who is stationed at Fisher's Island, N. Y., has been promoted to lieutenant colonel.

Pvt. Douglas Ulmer of Rockland has returned to Camp Houze, Texas, after spending a 15-days' furlough with his wife and family. He is now in the station hospital where he will undergo an operation shortly.

Ruth M. Johnson of Rockland and Eleanor D. Moran of Thomaston were among the 19 Maine girls who stepped out of civilian life the other day to assume the responsibilities of WAVES in the U. S. Naval Reserves.

Navy Recruiting Officer William J. Mullen, Jr., from the Portland Navy Recruiting Station will be in Rockland on Friday to interview men and women interested in Naval service. Women between 20 and 36 with at least two years of high school or business school are urgently needed in the WAVES at this time and all eligible applicants are urged to get in touch with Mr. Mullen at the U. S. Employment Office, Main street, Rockland Friday between 9 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.

Virginia M. McMillan of Rockland a Yeoman 3c in the WAVES, has been assigned to duty with the Navy in Washington, D. C., and is stationed at the Navy Communications Department, the Portland Navy Recruiting Station announced today.

Yeoman McMillan, daughter of Mrs. Florence McMillan, 3 Spruce street, Rockland is one of several thousands of women who have been assigned to Washington to serve as direct replacements for Navy men. According to yeoman McMillan groups of women in trim Navy blue uniforms are now an established part of the Washington scene. Both the city and the Navy have made the newcomers feel at home. Yeoman McMillan stated in a letter home to her mother.

She is a graduate of Rockland High School and later attended Normal School. Prior to enlisting in the WAVES Yeoman McMillan was teaching grade school. She was enlisted in the Navy December 1944, and attended the WAVE training center at the Bronx, N. Y. Upon completion of her basic training she was transferred to the Naval Training School, Cedar Falls Iowa, and there received her present petty officer rating.

A Washington despatch says that

JUST ARRIVED

We Have Just Received A Car Load Of

CANNEL COAL

This Is The Coal You Have Been Asking For To Burn In Your Open Grate Fireplace

M. B. & C. O. PERRY

Main Street, Tel. 487

39-T-45

Week-End Camporee

Brought Much Pleasure To 140 Boy Scouts participating—Hayford Gets Eagle Award

Ten troops of Boy Scouts of America in this district held a very successful camporee at the old Curtis-Wright airport, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 130 boys having registered, making an attendance, taking into account several "scouters," of 140.

An important feature of the camporee was a campfire court of honor held Saturday night, presided over by Allan F. McAlary, Joseph E. Blaisdell and Horatio C. Cowan, Sr. Earl Hayford of Troop 202, Rockland, received the Eagle badge, scouting's highest honor; Jack Henderson of the Camden troop, received the Star award and four Rockland boys, John Benson, 202; Gilman Ramsdell, 203; Charles Foote, 204, and Richard Pease, 204, were advanced to second class.

During the forenoon and afternoon Saturday contests on a points system were held in first-aid, water boiling, compass signalling, judging heights and weights, three-legged races, chariot, antelope and knet races. Entering into results, to be announced later, are camping quality, written menus, adequate shelter, location of tents, first-aid kits, neatness of scouts and cleanup following breaking up of camporee.

A parade early Saturday night, headed by Kenneth Mignault, Horatio Cowan, Jr., and Sherwin Sleepers, with Norman Hammond, Robert Gamble and Richard Jones, drummers, marched down Park street, north on Main street as far as Willow street, and back to the grounds on the same route. The troop from Wiscasset was outstanding because of its neatness of appearance and marching. The leader of this Wiscasset troop is Leland Brown, a sergeant in the State Guard.

Howard Butler of Augusta, field executive of the Abnaki Council, was present Friday and Saturday, until after lunch, when he left to attend a camporee of other troops of the council at Augusta.

Sunday morning, before breakfast, a field service was conducted by Rev. Roy A. Welker, who offered prayer and gave the boys a brief inspiring address. Several well known hymns were sung by the group.

Scouters present included Percy R. Keller, Kenneth M. Green and Samuel F. Batt of Camden; Raymond D. Bowden, Albert D. Mills, John A. Perry, Joseph E. Blaisdell and Horatio C. Cowan, Jr., of Rockland; Leland Brown and Harvey R. Pease of Wiscasset and Ralph Bridge of Damariscotta. Commissioner Horatio C. Cowan.

WHITE FLANNEL TROUSERS

REDUCED PRICES
$3.88 TO $7.88

ECONOMY CLOTHES SHOP

ROCKLAND, MAINE

42-45

OUTSTANDING BARGAINS

We Offer An Amazing Lot Of Record Smashing Bargains.

- Fly Dead Plus Flit (Lge. Jars) and Sprayer. $1.00
- Floor Wax—No Rubbing
- China Cups, Saucers, Plates
- Pyrex Ware, Casseroles, Bowls Etc.
- This Merchandise May Be Obtained Sundays At 13 Orange St.

SIEVE ALEX

Pool Room And Shoe Shining

365 MAIN ST.

ROCKLAND

45-46

NOTICE

I have a waiting list of prospects for all kinds of property. What have you that you want to sell quickly?

ELMER C. DAVIS, Realtor

375 MAIN STREET. ROCKLAND, ME. TEL. 77

26-1f

The Courier-Gazette has received the above picture of three Americans who had just returned to an Italian base from a bombing mission. In the center of the group is Sgt. Milton Gamage of 10 South Street, Rockland.

School Baseball

Rockland 11, Vinalhaven 7

Rockland cast airt from the mainland last Thursday and withstood the "crossing" well enough to bat out a victory over Vinalhaven 11 to 7. The game was virtually even Stephen for six innings after which the Limerock City boys pulled away with a safe lead.

Four two-baggers and two three-baggers were included in the batting festivities, McRae leading with a total of five bases.

Sr. reported the following registration of scouts: Camden, 18; Wiscasset, 19; Rockland Methodist, 1; High School, 6; First Baptist, 25; Congregational, 20; Sea Scouts, 12; Damariscotta, 21; Round Pond, 5, and New Harbor, 4.

Despite the strong winds prevailing, the 30 tents were held securely in place; warm clothing and blankets were plentiful to protect the boys from an unprecedented near June frost; and water was provided by a special faucet near the camp grounds.

Harvey R. Pease, Wiscasset attorney and former Rockland resident, made quite a hit with his trailer while hwas fitted with a cooking outfit.

The score:

Rockland 11, Vinalhaven 7

Rockland	ab	r	h	po
F. E. Allen, 2b	6	1	4	3
Flint, c	4	0	1	9
Holden, p	5	0	3	1
P. S. Allen, s	5	1	2	1
McLellan, lf	5	2	0	0
Googins, 3b	5	2	2	3
McRae, cf	3	2	2	0
Kelsey, rf	1	2	1	6
Lindsey	4	1	8	1
	38	11	37	9

Vinalhaven

Vinalhaven	ab	r	h	po
Littlefield, 1b	5	0	0	7
Conway, c	5	3	3	7
Carver, p	4	2	3	3
Morton, rf	5	1	3	0
Greenleaf, 3b	5	1	0	1
Hopkins, 2b	3	0	0	2
Knawit, cf	4	0	2	0
Kelwick, lf	2	0	0	1
Warren, lf	1	0	0	1
Winslow, lf	1	0	0	2

(Continued on Page Six)

GRREGORY'S takes pleasure in publishing this announcement in the interests of the Boy Scouts of America, the Rockland district and the citizens who give of their time and effort to carry on the important work of "Scouting."

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
Builds Character and Citizenship

GIVE TO THE BOY SCOUTS

Annual Financial Drive In Rockland District Is Now In Progress
QUOTA $750

1944 CAMPAIGN

General Chairman, Wilbur F. Senter Jr.
Campaign Treasurer, Lendon C. Jackson Jr.
Special Gift, G. E. Wood, P. P. Bicknell, H. Bird, H. P. Blodgett

Commercial Division, Lloyd Daniels, Chairman
Rotary Team
S. Congdon
O. Vaughn
L. Thurston
R. Eaton

Kiwanis Team
L. Jackson
F. Orne
S. Daniels
S. Burgess

Lions Team
E. Crockett
R. Annis
G. Grant
F. Harding

Industrial Division: Chairman, Alan McAlary

The destiny of any nation is in its youth.

GIVE NOW—GIVE GENEROUSLY

Contributions Can Be Made Direct To The Campaign Treasurer:

Lendon C. Jackson Jr., Knox County Trust Company

GREGORY'S

TALK OF THE TOWN

June 8—Alumni banquet at Haven Grange hall.
June 10—Limerock Valley Grange meets with Pleasant Grange, Vinalhaven.
June 12—Opening of 44th at Lakewood.
June 12-14—Grand Army of Public Convention, Augusta.
June 13—Camden High Alumni banquet at Motel Grange hall.
June 13-15—United Baptist Convention in Auburn.
June 14—Flag Day.
June 14—Commencement of Thomaston High School Grange hall.
June 14—Salvation Army Day.
June 19—State Primary Election.
June 21—Rockland High School.
June 22-23—National Hospital.
June 23-25—Department of the American Legion at Orchard Beach.
June 25—Samuel Hotel.
June 27—Annual meeting of Maine Medical Association at Maine.
July 2—Camp Tanglewood.
July 2—Annual Friends Community Building.

The chapter has now to quota of $28,500, in the $60. The executive committee Chairman wish to give thanks to excellent workers record is a credit to Knox and to Red Cross members says Keryn ap Rice Knox chairman.

Reports will be presented officers elected at meeting executive committee of the Land Servicemen's Club at 2 o'clock at the service the Community Building tickets for the dance last the money collected should turned in at once, either Lenore Savage at the Club Commerce office or to Mr. Dority.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ull announce the marriage of their daughter Kathryn to Pvt. Sam V. Laiscello of Jop. Pa., now stationed in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Ella P. Grimes, who spending the winter in New at her cottage at Beach.

Visit Clinton F. Thomas, a trister for a pair of good glass Old County Road, Rockland. Hours 2 to 5 and 6 to 8 p. m. day, Wednesday and Saturday. Phone 590 City.

"Perk yourself up with GARDEN ALLAH COFFEE"
RICH AND FLAVORFUL
Ask Your Grocer

DELAND, POTTER & CO., INC., BOSTON

ROCKLAND LO
NO. 79-A. F. & A.

TUESDAY, JUNE
SUPPER
at 6:30 P. M.
MASTER MASON DE
All Master Masons Co
Invited

YOUR HEATING SYSTEM
NO BETTER THAN ENGINEERED

THE PEERLESS EN
485 MAIN STREET
TELEPHONE 74
ROCKLAND, MAINE

PLUMBING, HEATING
INSULATING

BURPEE
Funeral Home
FELLS, 390-1174-7
110-112 LIMEROCK
ROCKLAND, ME
Ambulance Serv

TALK OF THE TOWN

June 9—Alumni banquet at North Haven Grange hall.
June 10—Limerock Valley Pomona Grange meets with Pleasant River Grange, Vinalhaven.
June 12—Opening of 44th Season at Lakewood.
June 12-14—Grand Army of the Republic Convention, Augusta.
June 13—Camden High School Alumni banquet at Megunticook Grange hall.
June 13-15—United Baptist Convention meets in Auburn.
June 14—Flag Day.
June 14—Commencement exercises of Thomaston High School, Grange hall.
June 14—Salvation Army Drive starts.
June 15—State Primary Election.
June 21—Rockland High School Graduation.
June 22-23—National Hospital Days.
June 23-25—Department Convention of the American Legion at Old Orchard Beach.
June 25—Samoset Hotel Opens.
June 27—Annual meeting of the Maine Medical Association in Rockland.
July 2—Camp Tangierwood opens at Camden.
July 3—Annual Fireman's Ball at Community Building.

The chapter has now topped its quota of $28,500, in the amount of $60. The executive committee and Chairman wish to give hearty thanks to excellent workers. "The record is a credit to Knox County and to Red Cross membership," says Kerny ap Rice Knox County chairman.

Reports will be presented and officers elected at meeting of the executive committee of the Rockland Servicemen's Club tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the service room in the Community Building. Unsold tickets for the dance last night and the money collected should be turned in, at once, either to Mrs. Lenore Savage at the Chamber of Commerce office or to Miss Betty Dority.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ulmer, Jr., announce the marriage May 19 of their daughter Kathryn Dubey to Pvt. Sam V. Luisello of Johnstown, Pa., now stationed in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Ella P. Grimes, who has been spending the winter in Boston, is now at her cottage at Crescent Beach.

Visit Clinton F. Thomas, optometrist for a pair of good glasses, 492 Old County Road, Rockland, Me. Hours 2 to 5 and 6 to 8 p. m. Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. Phone 590 City. 38-ft

Off To The War

Six Knox County men, all volunteers, left Monday for the U. S. Navy Receiving Station in Portland, with Bruno E. Aho of Warren as leader of the group. The list: Roger Vose, Rockland; Clayton Libby Vose, Jr., Rockland; Parker Francis Jackson, South Thomaston; Bert Joseph Vanorze, Rockland; Joseph Benjamin LeBlanc, East Union; Bruno Elmer Aho, Warren.

TO CITIZENS OF ROCKLAND

The school pupils of the city will make another paper collection on Thursday, June 8. All money received from the sale of this material will be used by the Schools for the purchase of needed extra equipment. Please observe these simple rules to help the boys and girls in their work.

The bundles securely, with strong cord.
Make bundles not more than 18 inches tall.
Send or carry all small bundles to the school building.

Call the school if you have a large amount of paper.
Telephone numbers: McLain School 818, Purchase Street 1219, Tyler 1211, High School 324-W.

The annual Fireman's Ball will be held July 3 in Community Building.

Supper at 6:30 will precede the work of King Solomon's Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Thursday. Work will be in the Royal Arch degree and Right Excellent Milton C. Stephenson of Exeter will make his official visitation.

The W.C.T.U. meets Friday at the home of the Misses Young, to hear reports of the secretary and treasurer; to elect officers and for appointment of department directors. Response to the roll call will be with current events items.

UNION

I have an oversupply of Year Books. Will any of my policyholders who would like one or two please let me know? It is a notebook with half a page for every day in the year. S. A. Lavender, Insurance, 151 Main St., Thomaston, Tel. 4—adv.

BORN

Rockliff—At Port Blakely, Wash. June 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice R. Rockliff, a son—Daniel Tennant.

DIED

Maloney—At Thomaston, June 2, Lizzie P., wife of Capt. John Maloney, age 81 yrs., 6 mos. 21 days.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all who so kindly remembered me in so many ways during my recent illness at Knox Hospital. I also wish to thank Dr. Walter D. Hall for his kind attention, and the entire staff of nurses for the wonderful care I received.

Mrs. Frank W. Wiley, Glenmere.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank neighbors and friends, Crescent Temple, P. S. E. A. Barrett Auxiliary, S.V. Chapter, O.E.S., Goodwill Grange, and the Baptist Sewing Circle for all kindnesses during the illness and death of Abbie Jane Stickney.

Warren. The Stickney Family

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FURNITURE for sale at B. H. PAUL, STORAGE BARN, Rockport. 45-11
WILLYS (1940) 4-dr sedan for sale A-1 condition, three practically new. ALBERT YOUNG, Norwood Ave., Camden. 45-46

RETURN OF EXPENDITURES

PRIMARY CANDIDATES, 1944
Published by the Secretary of State in accordance with Chapter 233 of the Public Laws of 1931, as amended. This includes all expenditures filed on or before 10 o'clock a. m. June 1, 1944.

FOR GOVERNOR

Roy L. Fernald, $7194.25
Horace A. Hildreth, 1901.62
Paul J. Julien, 73.97
F. Ardine Richardson, 122.36
FOR REPRESENTATIVE TO CONGRESS
Margaret Chase Smith, 122.36
David H. Staples, 20.90
FOR STATE SENATOR
Lloyd F. Crockett, 20.83

NOTICE

Board of Registration

The Board of Registration of the City of Rockland, Maine, will be in session at their room in the City Building, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 8 to 14, from nine in the forenoon to one o'clock in the afternoon, and from three to five o'clock in the afternoon and from seven to nine o'clock in the evening, war time, to receive evidence touching the qualifications of voters in said city, and to verify the correctness of the lists of voters, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 15, 16 and 17, no names will be added for the Election of June 19. No applications for Absent Voting Ballots or Physical Incapacity Ballots will be approved after five o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday June 17, 1944, when this session closes.

Per order of the Board of Registration.
By FRANK W. FULLER, Chairman. 44-46

RUSSELL FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
Tel. 662
6 CLAREMONT ST.
ROCKLAND, ME.

BURPEE
Funeral Home
TELS. 390-1174-M
110-112 LIMEROCK ST.
ROCKLAND, ME.
Ambulance Service

A rehearsal for the Children's Day concert Sunday will be held at the First Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All beginners and members of the primary and junior departments are requested to be present.

Mrs. Millie F. Thomas, a past State president and now State treasurer of the Grand Army Relief Corps, accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Thorndike, recently attended, at the Federated Church in Lewiston, a reception held for Mrs. Ruth Richards of Lewiston, president of the State Relief Corps. Nine past presidents were present and among the distinguished guests of the 150 in attendance were: Maurice Warner of Bath, past department commander, S.U.V., and Mrs. Warner; Mrs. Grace Nason Darling of Gray, department secretary of the Relief Corps and Ella M. Holston of Cumberland Mills, department president, Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary. Rev. Walter S. Rounds, formerly of Rockland, offered the opening prayer and gave an interesting talk.

The final meeting of the season of the Girl Scout Council will be held at 7:30 Thursday night in the Tower Room. It is imperative that all councilors and leaders be present.

WAC recruiting officers will be at the U. S. Employment office tomorrow from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The D Day service of prayer, previously planned by the pastor of the Methodist Church will be held in the auditorium of the church at 7:30 tonight. All who feel the urge to attend a service of worship and prayer on this day of destiny are invited.

Winners in the Sophomore Prize speaking contest at Rockland High School last night were: Flora Hustus, first and Louise Barton, second, for the girls, and Dennis Trask first, and Ronald Jarver, second for the boys. The judges, Rev. E. Vaughn Overman of Rockport; Mrs. Florence Gardner of Thomaston, and Principal Carlton P. Wood of Camden, were 27 minutes in reaching their decisions. First place winners received prizes of $5 and second place winners, $2.50, presented by Mr. Overman in behalf of the donors, the Rockland Rotary Club.

Officers and members of the executive committee of the Rockland High School Alumni Association will meet Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the office of Mayor Veazie.

The Kiwanis Club
Rockport High School Principal Tells Of Army Aviation Training

Clyde M. Hatch, principal of Rockport High School, and whose home is in Howland, told an interesting personal story of his experiences while taking the Army training for aviators. Mr. Hatch, who received a medical discharge, trained at Nashville, Tenn., Maxwell Field, Ala., Tuscaloosa, Ala., Greenwood, Miss., Columbus, Ohio, and Salt Lake City. He was introduced by Arthur H. Robinson, program chairman for June.

Club singing was led by H. Laton Jackson, with Arthur F. Lamb at the piano; Robert Neilson of Portland was guest of a member; Mr. Lamb reported that the dance held May 29, netted $90.40; a postal card from David G. Hodskins, Jr., who is stationed at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Sampson, N. Y., was read and Almon M. Young, chairman of the War Honor Roll committee reported that 12 more names would be placed on the board shortly.

President Alan L. Grossman appointed Fred C. Black, John M. Pomeroy, Dr. Donald T. Leigh, Almon N. Young and H. Laton Jackson as members of the 4th of July celebration committee, and Alfred S. Plourd, Richard P. Bird, Dr. Donald T. Leigh and A. B. Wetters were appointed a committee to arrange for publishing of postcards of the War Honor Roll Board.

It was announced that a meeting of the entire Fourth of July celebration committee would be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the fire station.

Clinging to the fierce delivery of these twirlers will be Percy McPhee, former Twilight League star, who will nail High School baserunners at second, via the pitcher relay system. Ed Chisholm is reducing to serve as a substitute catcher, should one be needed. Jimmy Connellan, tired of telling the boys how to do it, is going to do it himself.

The Old Timers will have a practice session at the Park Thursday night at 6 o'clock. The survivors will be ready for the fray Sunday afternoon.

The High School boys are wearing the smile that won't come off. Or will it?

H. Laton Jackson, chairman of Education sub-committee of the Rockland Citizens' Committee on Municipal Research, announces a change in the date of the address by State Commissioner Harry V. Gilson formerly planned for June 19. The meeting has been changed to June 12 at 8 p. m., at the Community Building. All other committee members and the public are invited.

Eugene Ryan has been reinstated at Sailors Snug Harbor, and left for there this morning.

Much local interest is manifested in the meeting June 17 at DeWitt Hotel, Lewiston, of the Poetry Fellowship. Prof. Paul G. Whitebeck of Bates College will be the afternoon speaker.

Oh, Boy! Oh, Boy!
Just Wait Till The Old Timers Tackle Rockland High Next Sunday

Baseball extraordinary will be witnessed at Community Park next Sunday afternoon when the Old Timers will undertake to show the Rockland High players what they should have done the past season. And to make matters doubly interesting some of the aforesaid Old Timers are papas of some of the High School players.

The manager of the Challengers went into the city's environs to complete his team, drawing upon Owl's Head, Rockport and Thomaston to make the aggregation a classy one. And here is what the students will run up against next Sunday at 3 p. m.:
L. E. McRae, Ray Foley, Ed Chisholm, T. Chisholm, P. McPhee, G. McPhee, O. Holden, J. Connellan, F. Black, C. Wetton, G. Margeson, C. Thornton, Ed Lynch, Dana Newman.

Tripping gaily to the mound when the Old Timers take the field will be Ray Foley of the Maine State Police, who used to star on the Calais team, an unmentioned number of years ago, and should a gallant road cop show any signs of faltering he will be replaced by Charlie Thornton or Oliver Wendell Holden, both of whom were quite some ball-tossers when Dodge Mountain was only a small hill.

Clinging to the fierce delivery of these twirlers will be Percy McPhee, former Twilight League star, who will nail High School baserunners at second, via the pitcher relay system. Ed Chisholm is reducing to serve as a substitute catcher, should one be needed. Jimmy Connellan, tired of telling the boys how to do it, is going to do it himself.

The Old Timers will have a practice session at the Park Thursday night at 6 o'clock. The survivors will be ready for the fray Sunday afternoon.

The High School boys are wearing the smile that won't come off. Or will it?

H. Laton Jackson, chairman of Education sub-committee of the Rockland Citizens' Committee on Municipal Research, announces a change in the date of the address by State Commissioner Harry V. Gilson formerly planned for June 19. The meeting has been changed to June 12 at 8 p. m., at the Community Building. All other committee members and the public are invited.

Eugene Ryan has been reinstated at Sailors Snug Harbor, and left for there this morning.

Much local interest is manifested in the meeting June 17 at DeWitt Hotel, Lewiston, of the Poetry Fellowship. Prof. Paul G. Whitebeck of Bates College will be the afternoon speaker.

"Tom" Stone Explains
Why Would-Be Customers Are Unable To Obtain Telephones

To a householder who wants a telephone and can't get it because of wartime demands and shortages, there may be some satisfaction—perhaps not a great deal—in the knowledge that his is one of about a million "held orders" in the files of Bell Telephone Companies throughout the United States, according to Manager Thomas C. Stone of the local office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"Most people realize, I think, what the difficulty is," Mr. Stone says. "The manufacture of telephone instruments was stopped about two years ago so that the plants of the Western Electric Company could turn out vast quantities of field telephones, walkie-talkies, aircraft and battleship communications systems, and Signal Corps equipment."

That meant practically no expansion of the civilian telephone system, and the margins that existed when the country entered the war were taken up by the Army and Navy needs and the great increase in communication demands by war industries. (About 2,500,000 telephones have been added to Bell System lines and offices since the Pearl Harbor attack, and with manufacture stopped, we're scraping the bottom of the barrel on telephone instruments, central office equipment, and cable.)

"New England is in about the same situation as the rest of the country, perhaps worse in some spots because of the concentration of war production in this area. My company now has more than 60,000 held orders in its files. Priority must be given to telephones essential to the conduct of the war, and that leaves little for the expanding civilian demand, Mr. Stone says. "In Rockland we have our share of these held orders, about 100 of them, and many have been in the files for four months."

It's difficult to predict when we can hope for much improvement. Before manufacture of telephone instruments and other equipment for civilian use can start up again, not only will much more Signal Corps material have to be supplied but, even after the termination of war contracts, the Western Electric Company will have the job of clearing its plants of war work then in process, and of carrying out a complex reconversion job. "Meantime our only hope of reducing the large number of held orders is through termination of service by present users, and those are not enough to meet the rising demand. But we are sparing no effort to serve as many people as we can with the present equipment, and most people are extremely tolerant about the whole situation because they know that war needs must be met."

Why He Changed

U. S. Senator Owen Brewster

And now we know why Senator Brewster changed his name from Ralph to Owen. The secret was divulged Friday night when the distinguished Maine statesman was asked point blank by a member of The Courier-Gazette staff if he would give the reason.

"Certainly," replied Senator Brewster. "When I was a boy at home, my brother insisted upon addressing me as Ralph." As a boy that was all right, but when I grew older and became impressed with the seriousness of things "Ralph" became rather irksome to me, and I decided that some day I was going to change the style of my name. And that's the honest goodness reason I am using my middle name Owen instead of my first name Ralph."

George I. Leonard is being reintroduced to his many friends by virtue of having parted with the long, flowing locks which have adorned his head from youth. The change is so startling as to serve almost as a disguise for the genial resident of Bog road.

cause they know that war needs must be met."

The Rotary Club

Thoughtful Address Presented By Former Representative From North Haven

"The Country Looks Toward the Future With the Farmers," was the topic of former Representative Lloyd N. Crockett's address before Rotarians at their meeting Friday noon.

Declaring that "the employment of farm labor will be quite a problem following the war," he urged that thought and planning be given to agriculture ahead of plans for reconversion of industry. Mr. Crockett said that his pet hobby was a broadened research program and a closer tie between the farmer, industrialist and labor. Mr. Crockett was introduced by Jerome C. Burrows, program chairman.

President Joseph W. Robinson appointed Lucius E. Jones, Albert C. McLoon and Kennedy Crane as a committee to co-operate with other committees to arrange a Fourth of July celebration, and Stafford G. Congdon, Ober C. Vaughn and Lloyd E. Daniels as committee for the Boy Scouts of America campaign.

Fifty-nine were present including two guests, Howard Butler of Augusta and Commander J. T. Kennedy of Ogunquit, and seven visitors, Henry Berke of Winthrop, Mass., Allie U. Dougherty, Frank E. Morrow and Harry Murray of Camden; Copeland Lang of Belfast; William F. Perry of Keene, N. H., and Prof. Charles A. Holden of Hanover, N. H.

Beano G.A.R. hall Thursday June 8, 2:15 p. m.—adv.

BEANO

EVERY TUESDAY NIGHT
8.15 o'clock

MASONIC TEMPLE HALL
Auspices Motor Corps Girls
102T

"Perc' yourself up with
GARDEN of ALLAH COFFEE
RICH AND FLAVORFUL
Ask Your Grocer

ROCKLAND LODGE
NO. 79—A. F. & A. M.
TUESDAY, JUNE 6
SUPPER
at 6:30 P. M.
MASTER MASON DEGREE
All Master Masons Cordially Invited
44-45

YOUR HEATING SYSTEM IS NO BETTER THAN IT IS ENGINEERED

THE PEERLESS ENG. CO.
485 MAIN STREET
TELEPHONE 744
ROCKLAND, MAINE
PLUMBING, HEATING AND INSULATING
44-46

BURPEE
Funeral Home
TELS. 390-1174-M
110-112 LIMEROCK ST.
ROCKLAND, ME.
Ambulance Service

Traffic Rules for Bicycle Riders
City of Rockland

1. Do not ride two on one bike.
2. Do not ride on sidewalk.
3. Do not ride two or more abreast.
4. All bicycles must be Registered and Plate attached to rear of vehicle.
5. Night riders must have Bike equipped with Light and Reflector.
6. Ride on right side of street with care.
7. For Safety of yourself and others follow these rules.
8. All violaters will be brought before the POLICE CHIEF.

Signed C. M. Richardson, Chief of Police

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

REPUBLICAN
PRIMARIES
JUNE 19th

VOTE FOR HILDRETH
for GOVERNOR
PRESIDENT, MAINE SENATE
Experienced in Government, Business, and Civic Affairs
KNOTT C. RANKIN, Maine Hildreth-for-Governor Club

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

FOR STATE SENATOR

- Member of 88th, 89th & 90th Legislature, served on Agriculture, Insurance & Federal Relations Committees.
- Now seeks advancement to the Senate.
- Your support appreciated.
- Republican primary election June 19.

Lloyd F. Crockett

YOUNG WOMEN

With 2 years high school or equivalent to prepare for essential work with bright future. 18-month accelerated nursing course. Salary, maintenance, tuition, uniforms, and books furnished. No expense. Write today.
Director of Nursing Education
149 Hillside Avenue
Arlington, Mass.
43-46

CHAMBERMAIDS
Chambermaids Wanted At The Samoset
APPLY
MISS FOLEY AT THE SAMOSET
41-46

HERE...NOW...
FOR ONE WEEK
ONLY!
Sensational Vitamin Offer!

FREE
THIS 29¢ PACKAGE
MAJOR-B VITAMINS

WITH THE PURCHASE OF A REGULAR PACKAGE
CONTAINING 100 TABLETS
Full month's supply at 89¢

ACT TODAY!
"FEEL FIT AS A MAJOR"

major-B
Natural B-COMPLEX VITAMINS

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS EXCITING OFFER

Give your family the B-Complex health protection they need. Get safe, dependable, low-cost Major-B-Complex Vitamin tablets, recommended to all men, women and children by one of America's foremost food authorities.

THE PERRY MARKETS

SUMMER SCHEDULE
VINALHAVEN II
STARTING JUNE 1 UNTIL OCTOBER 1
Leave Vinalhaven 7 A.M. Arrive Rock. 8.20 A.M.
Rockland 9.30 A. M. Vinalhaven 10.50 A. M.
Vinalhaven 1 P. M. Rockland 2.20 P. M.
Rockland 3.30 P. M. Vinalhaven 4.50 P. M.
DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS
Starting Sunday, June 18 Will Run Sundays
Vinalhaven Port District
42-44

MR. WINKLE GOES TO WAR

THEODORE PRATT

CHAPTER XII

Mr. Winkle pulled his steel helmet more securely on his head and pressed on the accelerator of the car.

The jeep shot off the road and along the sand trail leading to the beach. The command car stood where it had been left, in a partially cleared space enclosed by low palms. Mr. Winkle stopped along-side it.

As they got out, he glanced at the jeep set at one side among the trees. Ordinarily, the off-duty members of the machine-gun crew would be loitering or sleeping there. It was empty.

Up on the low ridge, fifty feet away, a helmeted head appeared above the sand. It was the Alpha-Bet. Recognizing them, he waved briefly and then disappeared.

"It ain't like him," Mr. Tinker observed, "not to be hospitable to his friends."

Mr. Winkle took their tools from the back seat of the jeep. His hands shook a little. He pulled his helmet still more securely over his head and said, "We'd better get to work."

"We can take a minute," Mr. Tinker said, "to see what's going on up there."

Reluctantly, Mr. Winkle followed him to the ridge.

They didn't receive a very warm welcome. "If you go to come here," Sergeant Czeidekrowski snapped, "get down in."

They scrambled below ground level, hunching themselves into the fox hole, crowding Freddie, Jack, and the other men who sat listening attentively or knelt to stare out over the ocean.

Freddie, at the machine gun whose snout pointed across the beach, greeted them, "Maybe here now, in his place, would have known what to do.

Then Mr. Winkle knew what to do. It occurred to him that he hadn't thought of himself, of his own safety, when considering getting away in the jeep. He had thought only of giving the warning of what was happening.

Also, he saw Mr. Tinker lying sprawled out there on the ground. He remembered how he had ducked under the command car while Mr. Tinker fired his rifle. The recollection made him feel craven, especially when Mr. Tinker would never get his jaw.

He decided that he must get him for Mr. Tinker.

There were the Alphabet, Freddie, Jack, and the other men to think about, too. It infuriated him that Sergeant Czeidekrowski lay dead. It made him see red to think that after Freddie had been made into a decent person, he had been killed.

His brain seared with a hot flame at the thought of Jack. It seemed to be the most natural thing in the world to pull Freddie's body from the gun. Swiftly, he examined it. The gun was intact. It needed only a new belt of ammunition.

He clawed about in the sand and among the bodies for an ammunition box. He stepped on soft flesh and didn't mind it.

Digging furiously, he found what he wanted. He stripped the nearly spent belt from the gun, and inserted a fresh one.

As he worked he knew how good and wise it was that he had been trained to operate a machine gun. He wished that he was better at it. But a rising surge of confidence made him sure he would be good enough.

The first boat was nearly at the shore. Mr. Winkle sighted the gun for the spot he figured the men would be when they stepped out. That was what he had been taught. He still had a moment. He employed it by coolly taking off his glasses and wiping them dry with his handkerchief. He wiped his face and neck, both of which streamed with sweat.

He glanced about. This was where he would die. He had often wondered in what circumstances and in what locality it would occur. Now he knew. It wasn't such a bad place. He saw it almost for the first time, the waving palm trees, the flowering hibiscus.

He liked it. It was romantic. Amy, he thought, would be glad to know it was such an attractive place.

It occurred to him that for the first time in his life he wasn't afraid to die. He even exulted in it. He heard his voice. He was laughing. He felt released from hard, painful bonds. He knew that, at last, Wilbert George Winkle, in the flesh and not in a newspaper headline, was proud to fight.

He turned back to the gun. It was nearly time.

The assault boat beached in shallow water. Men started jumping out and splashing through the water. He could see their faces, brown, slant-eyed, expressionless. Mr. Winkle let them all get out. Then, carefully sighting, he squeezed the trigger.

There was a snap and a jerk. The gun jammed without firing. Frantically, he worked at the gun. One finger caught in the mechanism. He tore it away. Blood spurted, but he paid no attention. He kept picking at the jammed cartridge. Finally he got it out, and a new one in the firing chamber, the gun prepared properly.

Five men had run ahead, off to one side. Mr. Winkle swung his gun around, concentrating on them first. This time the gun fired. He was astonished to see the men fall. He wasn't sure if one of them got away.

He swung the gun back, spitting vengeance at the larger group. As the bullets spat out from under his hands, a still new and greater world opened before him.

This was what he had lived for. Life had a meaning and a purpose of which he had never dreamed.

He ran to the ridge. He arrived breathing hard, not from exertion, but from excitement. He gasped at what he saw.

One of the shells from the plane's cannon had exploded in the fox hole. The bodies of the men lay about, some of them half buried. Freddie was sprawled over the gun, as if protecting it. Sergeant Czeidekrowski was on his back, his open eyes staring straight up at the burning sun and not blinking. In a tangled pile, Mr. Winkle caught sight of the side of Jack's still face.

A single thought ran through him repeatedly. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews? He asked himself. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews?

The sound of surging water made him turn his head.

Out of the mist had come a flat-nosed Japanese assault boat.

Behind it, and somewhat off to either side, were two more.

Mr. Winkle sank to his knees, both to get out of sight and because his legs wouldn't hold him up any more.

After a moment, he knew that he must do something. He realized that the whole position on Taizoo might be lost if the men in those assault boats ever landed and infiltrated through the jungle.

He found himself scrambling about in the sand of the fox hole for the field phone. It wasn't in sight.

He saw the Signal Corps wire leading up out of the hole. He grabbed it, and started pulling on it.

A broken piece of the shattered phone came into his hands. He pulled it. It flashed through his mind that it had been a mistake to draft and make a soldier out of a mouse. He felt guilty at not having resigned from the Army. A different man

W.N.U. RELEASE

From out over the sea there came a sudden roar. Guns began to spit virtually at the same instant. There was the crackle of the Alphabet's machine gun. Added to it was the louder firing of more machine guns and what sounded like a small cannon.

"Duck!" yelled Mr. Winkle. He dropped the wrench he was holding and dived under the command car.

Lying there, his heart beating so fast it seemed to equal the rapid firing of the guns, he expected Mr. Tinker to join him.

Instead, he heard the quick firing of a Garand. He could see Mr. Tinker's feet and part of his legs, braced to take up the shock from the gun.

The plane came over. It appeared to know exactly where to come. There was a rush and a terrific, staccato banging, several loud explosions that shook the earth, and then it was gone.

The firing stopped. Mr. Winkle opened his eyes without having realized that he had closed them.

Again he saw Mr. Tinker, who was now standing halfway to the ridge. He was reloading his rifle and looking malevolently at the sky.

The plane came back. Once more it spit heavy death from its nose, and lighter, more gentle death from its wings. Mr. Tinker fired right back at it. His mouth was open, he scowled fiercely, and he was yelling some kind of imprecation that couldn't be heard.

It wasn't until a moment after the plane had gone again, out over the ocean, that Mr. Tinker's arms dropped and the rifle slid from his hands.

He reached up, methodically, slowly, and pushed his helmet back on his head as if to get cool.

He looked about. He might have been bewildered. His voice choked and gurgled when he called, "Pop . . . Hey, Pop . . ."

Then he crumpled, like something stiff gone soft, folding up and sinking to the ground.

Mr. Winkle, watching this from beneath the command car, couldn't believe at first that it was actual. It had happened too quickly, too much without warning to be any different from field tactics in which picked men simulated those hit when the planes came over.

Then he realized that the plane hadn't been a friendly one.

He crawled out from beneath the car and got to his feet. His legs seemed to function automatically, without any volition on his part, as he made his way to Mr. Tinker.

The blood spreading over Mr. Tinker's chest made him sick and weak. He bent and touched him, whispering his name. But Mr. Tinker didn't answer.

Mr. Winkle realized something else. When the plane went over the second time the Alphabet's machine gun hadn't fired.

From the fox hole now there came no movement. All about there was silence.

He ran to the ridge. He arrived breathing hard, not from exertion, but from excitement. He gasped at what he saw.

One of the shells from the plane's cannon had exploded in the fox hole. The bodies of the men lay about, some of them half buried. Freddie was sprawled over the gun, as if protecting it. Sergeant Czeidekrowski was on his back, his open eyes staring straight up at the burning sun and not blinking. In a tangled pile, Mr. Winkle caught sight of the side of Jack's still face.

A single thought ran through him repeatedly. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews? He asked himself. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews?

The sound of surging water made him turn his head.

Out of the mist had come a flat-nosed Japanese assault boat.

Behind it, and somewhat off to either side, were two more.

Mr. Winkle sank to his knees, both to get out of sight and because his legs wouldn't hold him up any more.

After a moment, he knew that he must do something. He realized that the whole position on Taizoo might be lost if the men in those assault boats ever landed and infiltrated through the jungle.

He found himself scrambling about in the sand of the fox hole for the field phone. It wasn't in sight.

He saw the Signal Corps wire leading up out of the hole. He grabbed it, and started pulling on it.

A broken piece of the shattered phone came into his hands. He pulled it. It flashed through his mind that it had been a mistake to draft and make a soldier out of a mouse. He felt guilty at not having resigned from the Army. A different man here now, in his place, would have known what to do.

Then Mr. Winkle knew what to do. It occurred to him that he hadn't thought of himself, of his own safety, when considering getting away in the jeep. He had thought only of giving the warning of what was happening.

Also, he saw Mr. Tinker lying sprawled out there on the ground. He remembered how he had ducked under the command car while Mr. Tinker fired his rifle. The recollection made him feel craven, especially when Mr. Tinker would never get his jaw.

He decided that he must get him for Mr. Tinker.

There were the Alphabet, Freddie, Jack, and the other men to think about, too. It infuriated him that Sergeant Czeidekrowski lay dead. It made him see red to think that after Freddie had been made into a decent person, he had been killed.

His brain seared with a hot flame at the thought of Jack. It seemed to be the most natural thing in the world to pull Freddie's body from the gun. Swiftly, he examined it. The gun was intact. It needed only a new belt of ammunition.

He clawed about in the sand and among the bodies for an ammunition box. He stepped on soft flesh and didn't mind it.

Digging furiously, he found what he wanted. He stripped the nearly spent belt from the gun, and inserted a fresh one.

As he worked he knew how good and wise it was that he had been trained to operate a machine gun. He wished that he was better at it. But a rising surge of confidence made him sure he would be good enough.

The first boat was nearly at the shore. Mr. Winkle sighted the gun for the spot he figured the men would be when they stepped out. That was what he had been taught. He still had a moment. He employed it by coolly taking off his glasses and wiping them dry with his handkerchief. He wiped his face and neck, both of which streamed with sweat.

He glanced about. This was where he would die. He had often wondered in what circumstances and in what locality it would occur. Now he knew. It wasn't such a bad place. He saw it almost for the first time, the waving palm trees, the flowering hibiscus.

He liked it. It was romantic. Amy, he thought, would be glad to know it was such an attractive place.

It occurred to him that for the first time in his life he wasn't afraid to die. He even exulted in it. He heard his voice. He was laughing. He felt released from hard, painful bonds. He knew that, at last, Wilbert George Winkle, in the flesh and not in a newspaper headline, was proud to fight.

He turned back to the gun. It was nearly time.

The assault boat beached in shallow water. Men started jumping out and splashing through the water. He could see their faces, brown, slant-eyed, expressionless. Mr. Winkle let them all get out. Then, carefully sighting, he squeezed the trigger.

There was a snap and a jerk. The gun jammed without firing. Frantically, he worked at the gun. One finger caught in the mechanism. He tore it away. Blood spurted, but he paid no attention. He kept picking at the jammed cartridge. Finally he got it out, and a new one in the firing chamber, the gun prepared properly.

Five men had run ahead, off to one side. Mr. Winkle swung his gun around, concentrating on them first. This time the gun fired. He was astonished to see the men fall. He wasn't sure if one of them got away.

He swung the gun back, spitting vengeance at the larger group. As the bullets spat out from under his hands, a still new and greater world opened before him.

This was what he had lived for. Life had a meaning and a purpose of which he had never dreamed.

He ran to the ridge. He arrived breathing hard, not from exertion, but from excitement. He gasped at what he saw.

One of the shells from the plane's cannon had exploded in the fox hole. The bodies of the men lay about, some of them half buried. Freddie was sprawled over the gun, as if protecting it. Sergeant Czeidekrowski was on his back, his open eyes staring straight up at the burning sun and not blinking. In a tangled pile, Mr. Winkle caught sight of the side of Jack's still face.

A single thought ran through him repeatedly. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews? He asked himself. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews?

The sound of surging water made him turn his head.

Out of the mist had come a flat-nosed Japanese assault boat.

Behind it, and somewhat off to either side, were two more.

Mr. Winkle sank to his knees, both to get out of sight and because his legs wouldn't hold him up any more.

After a moment, he knew that he must do something. He realized that the whole position on Taizoo might be lost if the men in those assault boats ever landed and infiltrated through the jungle.

He found himself scrambling about in the sand of the fox hole for the field phone. It wasn't in sight.

He saw the Signal Corps wire leading up out of the hole. He grabbed it, and started pulling on it.

A broken piece of the shattered phone came into his hands. He pulled it. It flashed through his mind that it had been a mistake to draft and make a soldier out of a mouse. He felt guilty at not having resigned from the Army. A different man here now, in his place, would have known what to do.

Then Mr. Winkle knew what to do. It occurred to him that he hadn't thought of himself, of his own safety, when considering getting away in the jeep. He had thought only of giving the warning of what was happening.

Also, he saw Mr. Tinker lying sprawled out there on the ground. He remembered how he had ducked under the command car while Mr. Tinker fired his rifle. The recollection made him feel craven, especially when Mr. Tinker would never get his jaw.

He decided that he must get him for Mr. Tinker.

There were the Alphabet, Freddie, Jack, and the other men to think about, too. It infuriated him that Sergeant Czeidekrowski lay dead. It made him see red to think that after Freddie had been made into a decent person, he had been killed.

His brain seared with a hot flame at the thought of Jack. It seemed to be the most natural thing in the world to pull Freddie's body from the gun. Swiftly, he examined it. The gun was intact. It needed only a new belt of ammunition.

He clawed about in the sand and among the bodies for an ammunition box. He stepped on soft flesh and didn't mind it.

Digging furiously, he found what he wanted. He stripped the nearly spent belt from the gun, and inserted a fresh one.

As he worked he knew how good and wise it was that he had been trained to operate a machine gun. He wished that he was better at it. But a rising surge of confidence made him sure he would be good enough.

The first boat was nearly at the shore. Mr. Winkle sighted the gun for the spot he figured the men would be when they stepped out. That was what he had been taught. He still had a moment. He employed it by coolly taking off his glasses and wiping them dry with his handkerchief. He wiped his face and neck, both of which streamed with sweat.

He glanced about. This was where he would die. He had often wondered in what circumstances and in what locality it would occur. Now he knew. It wasn't such a bad place. He saw it almost for the first time, the waving palm trees, the flowering hibiscus.

He liked it. It was romantic. Amy, he thought, would be glad to know it was such an attractive place.

It occurred to him that for the first time in his life he wasn't afraid to die. He even exulted in it. He heard his voice. He was laughing. He felt released from hard, painful bonds. He knew that, at last, Wilbert George Winkle, in the flesh and not in a newspaper headline, was proud to fight.

He turned back to the gun. It was nearly time.

The assault boat beached in shallow water. Men started jumping out and splashing through the water. He could see their faces, brown, slant-eyed, expressionless. Mr. Winkle let them all get out. Then, carefully sighting, he squeezed the trigger.

There was a snap and a jerk. The gun jammed without firing. Frantically, he worked at the gun. One finger caught in the mechanism. He tore it away. Blood spurted, but he paid no attention. He kept picking at the jammed cartridge. Finally he got it out, and a new one in the firing chamber, the gun prepared properly.

Five men had run ahead, off to one side. Mr. Winkle swung his gun around, concentrating on them first. This time the gun fired. He was astonished to see the men fall. He wasn't sure if one of them got away.

He swung the gun back, spitting vengeance at the larger group. As the bullets spat out from under his hands, a still new and greater world opened before him.

This was what he had lived for. Life had a meaning and a purpose of which he had never dreamed.

He ran to the ridge. He arrived breathing hard, not from exertion, but from excitement. He gasped at what he saw.

One of the shells from the plane's cannon had exploded in the fox hole. The bodies of the men lay about, some of them half buried. Freddie was sprawled over the gun, as if protecting it. Sergeant Czeidekrowski was on his back, his open eyes staring straight up at the burning sun and not blinking. In a tangled pile, Mr. Winkle caught sight of the side of Jack's still face.

A single thought ran through him repeatedly. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews? He asked himself. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews?

The sound of surging water made him turn his head.

Out of the mist had come a flat-nosed Japanese assault boat.

Behind it, and somewhat off to either side, were two more.

Mr. Winkle sank to his knees, both to get out of sight and because his legs wouldn't hold him up any more.

After a moment, he knew that he must do something. He realized that the whole position on Taizoo might be lost if the men in those assault boats ever landed and infiltrated through the jungle.

He found himself scrambling about in the sand of the fox hole for the field phone. It wasn't in sight.

He saw the Signal Corps wire leading up out of the hole. He grabbed it, and started pulling on it.

A broken piece of the shattered phone came into his hands. He pulled it. It flashed through his mind that it had been a mistake to draft and make a soldier out of a mouse. He felt guilty at not having resigned from the Army. A different man here now, in his place, would have known what to do.

Then Mr. Winkle knew what to do. It occurred to him that he hadn't thought of himself, of his own safety, when considering getting away in the jeep. He had thought only of giving the warning of what was happening.

Also, he saw Mr. Tinker lying sprawled out there on the ground. He remembered how he had ducked under the command car while Mr. Tinker fired his rifle. The recollection made him feel craven, especially when Mr. Tinker would never get his jaw.

He decided that he must get him for Mr. Tinker.

There were the Alphabet, Freddie, Jack, and the other men to think about, too. It infuriated him that Sergeant Czeidekrowski lay dead. It made him see red to think that after Freddie had been made into a decent person, he had been killed.

His brain seared with a hot flame at the thought of Jack. It seemed to be the most natural thing in the world to pull Freddie's body from the gun. Swiftly, he examined it. The gun was intact. It needed only a new belt of ammunition.

He clawed about in the sand and among the bodies for an ammunition box. He stepped on soft flesh and didn't mind it.

Digging furiously, he found what he wanted. He stripped the nearly spent belt from the gun, and inserted a fresh one.

As he worked he knew how good and wise it was that he had been trained to operate a machine gun. He wished that he was better at it. But a rising surge of confidence made him sure he would be good enough.

The first boat was nearly at the shore. Mr. Winkle sighted the gun for the spot he figured the men would be when they stepped out. That was what he had been taught. He still had a moment. He employed it by coolly taking off his glasses and wiping them dry with his handkerchief. He wiped his face and neck, both of which streamed with sweat.

He glanced about. This was where he would die. He had often wondered in what circumstances and in what locality it would occur. Now he knew. It wasn't such a bad place. He saw it almost for the first time, the waving palm trees, the flowering hibiscus.

He liked it. It was romantic. Amy, he thought, would be glad to know it was such an attractive place.

It occurred to him that for the first time in his life he wasn't afraid to die. He even exulted in it. He heard his voice. He was laughing. He felt released from hard, painful bonds. He knew that, at last, Wilbert George Winkle, in the flesh and not in a newspaper headline, was proud to fight.

He turned back to the gun. It was nearly time.

The assault boat beached in shallow water. Men started jumping out and splashing through the water. He could see their faces, brown, slant-eyed, expressionless. Mr. Winkle let them all get out. Then, carefully sighting, he squeezed the trigger.

There was a snap and a jerk. The gun jammed without firing. Frantically, he worked at the gun. One finger caught in the mechanism. He tore it away. Blood spurted, but he paid no attention. He kept picking at the jammed cartridge. Finally he got it out, and a new one in the firing chamber, the gun prepared properly.

Five men had run ahead, off to one side. Mr. Winkle swung his gun around, concentrating on them first. This time the gun fired. He was astonished to see the men fall. He wasn't sure if one of them got away.

He swung the gun back, spitting vengeance at the larger group. As the bullets spat out from under his hands, a still new and greater world opened before him.

This was what he had lived for. Life had a meaning and a purpose of which he had never dreamed.

He ran to the ridge. He arrived breathing hard, not from exertion, but from excitement. He gasped at what he saw.

One of the shells from the plane's cannon had exploded in the fox hole. The bodies of the men lay about, some of them half buried. Freddie was sprawled over the gun, as if protecting it. Sergeant Czeidekrowski was on his back, his open eyes staring straight up at the burning sun and not blinking. In a tangled pile, Mr. Winkle caught sight of the side of Jack's still face.

A single thought ran through him repeatedly. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews? He asked himself. How will I ever tell the Pettigrews?

The sound of surging water made him turn his head.

Out of the mist had come a flat-nosed Japanese assault boat.

Behind it, and somewhat off to either side, were two more.

Mr. Winkle sank to his knees, both to get out of sight and because his legs wouldn't hold him up any more.

After a moment, he knew that he must do something. He realized that the whole position on Taizoo might be lost if the men in those assault boats ever landed and infiltrated through the jungle.

He found himself scrambling about in the sand of the fox hole for the field phone. It wasn't in sight.

He saw the Signal Corps wire leading up out of the hole. He grabbed it, and started pulling on it.

A broken piece of the shattered phone came into his hands. He pulled it. It flashed through his mind that it had been a mistake to draft and make a soldier out of a mouse. He felt guilty at not having resigned from the Army. A different man

WALDOBORO

MRS. ISABEL LAKE
Correspondent

Telephone 78

Dorothea Waltz of Newburyport, Mass., and Isabel Waltz of Boston spent the weekend at the Waltz homestead.

Mrs. Nellie Overlock has arrived home after spending the Winter with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Sturrock. Mrs. Sturrock

VINALHAVEN
~~~~~
MRS. OSCAR C. LANE
Correspondent

Mrs. Charles Williams was hostess to the "Antique Club" Monday at her home.

Ladies of the G.A.R. Circle met Friday night. Supper was served by Mrs. Lora Hardison, Mrs. Lodie Hassen and Mrs. Gertrude Hall. At the close of the meeting a white elephant sale, made a fine entertainment and netted a considerable sum. The mystery package went to Mrs. Lora Hardison.

Annie Richards of Stonington was week-end guest of Mrs. Frank Mulien.

Mrs. Eva Billings was hostess Friday to the Weary Club, featuring the 83d birthday of Mrs. Rebecca Arey who was remembered with greeting cards and a gift from the club. Supper was served and a social evening enjoyed.

Mrs. Angus Hennigan is visiting her daughter Mrs. Merle Hutchinson in Rockland.

Mrs. Max Conway was hostess Friday to the Atlantic Avenue Bridge Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Middleton who were in town over Memorial Day were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carmie. They have returned to Rockland Wednesday.

Mont Roberts ARMC left Wednesday for Seattle, Wash.

Red Cross will meet Wednesday at the Latter Day Saints Church.

A shower party was given Mrs. Alfred Greenlaw Wednesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wilfred Lloyd. Mrs. Jessie Lloyd and Mrs. Philip Bennett, hostesses, were assisted in serving by Mrs. Ira MacDonald and Mrs. Wilfred Lloyd. About 60 were present and Mrs. Greenlaw received many beautiful gifts. A light repast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Webster of North Weymouth, Mass., formerly of this town announce the marriage of their daughter Pfc. Barbara L. Webster of WAC's to Corp. Robert H. McRae, May 19 at Hawaii. The ceremony took place in the Army chapel. The chaplain of Corporal McRae's regiment officiated. Members of Bat. C. 864 AAA were in attendance.

Sunday at 11 o'clock the senior class entered Union Church, led by Jane Libby, a junior as marshal, marched to seats at the front of the auditorium. Leola Smith, organist played Aida March. After a short address to the class of counsel and advice, Rev. C. S. Mitchell, the pastor delivered the baccalaureate sermon. Special anthems, were sung by the choir and a duet by Mrs. Franklin Adams and David Duncan. Church decorations were large baskets of Spring flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Orcutt who were in town for Memorial Day have returned to Rockland.

Union Church choir practice was held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Doris S. Arey. After the rehearsal, Mrs. Etta Morton, president of the choir, presented Mr. and Mrs. Leon Arey a gift of money in behalf of the choir, in honor of their recent marriage. Lunch was followed by a social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lenfest of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lenfest of Reading, Mass., arrived Friday called by illness of their mother Mrs. Merritt Lenfest.

Mrs. Elinore Wadsworth went Friday to Boston.

Mrs. Wyman Guilford was hostess to the "Titanic Club" Thursday night at her home. Lunch was served.

The Senior Class of Vinalhaven High School announces its commencement exercises, Thursday at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall. The program is: Processional; Invocation, Rev. Charles Mitchell; "War in the Pacific," salutatory, Irene Ames; Will, Mildred Philbrook; War in Africa, Marjorie Smith; gifts, Lucille Bruce; song, "God Bless America," Norma Skoog; War in Europe," Betty Dyer; prophecy, VINALHAVEN HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSO.

ANNUAL MEETING & BANQUET
Union Church Vestry, Monday 6:30 P. M.
June 19

Letters from all V. H. S. Alumni, wherever they may be, will be welcome. Due to vacancies in elected officers, the usual card notices will not be sent out, so tell all your Fish-hawk friends. Don't forget the date Monday, June 19. Also don't forget your dues 25 cents.

O. V. DREW Pres. L. W. Sanborn Treas.

JOIN GULF'S "Anti-Breakdown" CLUB TODAY!

BEFORE THIS WAR is over, there may be only two kinds of people in America...

1. those who can still get to work in automobiles.

2. those who are forced to walk.

If you want to be in the fortunate group who will still be riding to work in automobiles, join Gulf's "Anti-Breakdown" Club today. How do you do it? Just come in for Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan!

This plan was conceived by experts in car care. Gulf developed it because car maintenance is a most important civilian job. (8 out of 10 war workers use automobiles to get to work.)

Here's Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan...

It protects your car at 39 danger points!

1. GULF's Protective Maintenance Plan includes Gulf's Registered Lubrication which reaches up to 39 vital engine, body, and chassis points. Six different Gulf Lubricants are used to reduce wear.

2. IT'S IMPORTANT to change your oil regularly... and to give your car a really good motor oil like Gulfgrade, "The World's Finest Motor Oil," or Gulfblue, an extra-quality oil that costs a few cents less.

3. It helps stretch your gas coupons! ASK YOUR GULF DEALER to clean your spark plugs, clean your air filter, and flush out your radiator, to help give you as much as 10% more mileage per gallon of gas!

Get an appointment at your Gulf station

TO HELP YOUR Gulf Dealer do a thorough job on your car—and to save your time—make an appointment. Phone or speak to him at the station. Then you should encounter no delay when you get Gulf's Protective Maintenance Plan... 15 services in all!

Gasoline powers the attack... Don't waste a drop!

GULF

...for better car care today... to avoid breakdowns tomorrow

Deer Isle Romance
Mrs. Springer Tells Of Day When George Washington Kissed One Of Her Relatives

Late in 1819, John Thompson, a dashing young sea captain from Deer Isle, was in Philadelphia. He had occasion to call at the home of Woodbridge Odlin, who was recently appointed United States Consul at San Salvador (generally called Bahia) in Brazil. Here he was introduced to Mrs. Odlin's half sister, charming Elizabeth Brooks of Exeter, N. H., who was visiting there.

Elizabeth was the 18-year old daughter of Deacon Samuel Brooks, and grand-daughter of Tirzah Emery. (Thus she was the second cousin of George Emery, early settler in South Thomaston.) When Capt. Thompson's brig, Alligator, sailed May 10, 1820, from Philadelphia for Brazil, the handsome young captain was accompanied by his bride, Elizabeth Brooks Thompson.

John Thompson and wife were destined to suffer many hardships, and to endure many dangers during the eight short years of their marriage. (The Alligator later sailed from Boston to Portugal and the Cape Verde Islands in the goat skin trade.)

Once, north of these Islands, the ship was captured by Barbary pirates. Before they came aboard, Elizabeth was safely hidden in a hoghead with a supply of food and water. Here, in fear and trembling she awaited her fate.

Before she could be discovered, a British man-of-war hove in sight! The pirates were driven off, and Elizabeth crawled from the hoghead, none the worse for this hair-raising episode.

Her son, William, was born while the ship was off the Cape Verde Islands. Elizabeth Brooks Thompson crossed the Atlantic Ocean 16 times in sailing vessels. Capt. Thompson died in Boston in 1828. Shortly afterward, Elizabeth and her two children returned to the Cape Verde Island, where she was employed for several years as secretary to the Governor-General of the Islands, Senor Manuel a Martins, a Portuguese. In 1837 she returned to Philadelphia with her daughter, Frances, aged nine. The little girl could only speak Portuguese when she arrived.

Elizabeth Thompson was the only member of the Deacon Brooks family, who made frequent visits to New England and kept up a correspondence with relatives and friends of her native town. During a visit to Boston in 1848 she wrote her brother, James Emery Phyllis Swears; "War at Home," valedictory, Marion Oakes; presentation of diplomas, Supt. G. A. Bragdon; recessional. The program will be followed by the graduation ball.

Mrs. Vaughn Johnson entertained Wednesday afternoon tea at her home in honor of Mrs. Helen Ames Gerry of Hollywood, Calif., formerly of this town. Other guests were: Mrs. Leroy Ames, Mrs. Everett Libby and Mrs. Leslie Dyer.

A. E. Libby returned from Rockland Thursday.

Mrs. Edward Gould of Rockland is guest of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alice Lawry Gould.

Mrs. Wilbra Billings, who has been spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Coombs went Friday to her home in Bath.

Mrs. Richard Johnson, who spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carver, has returned to Lewiston.

Workers on surgical dressings will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at Legion hall.

Mildred Brinkworth is home from Hartford, Conn., where she has employment and is spending the week with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Vinal Hopkins.

Mrs. Charles Boman was hostess Thursday to the Bridge Eight. Lunch was served.

Frank O'good U. S. Navy is home on a short leave.

Mrs. Helen Ames Gerry left Friday for her home in Hollywood, Calif. Enroute she visited her son Bruce Gerry, U. S. Naval Reserve in training at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Smith have returned to their home in Rye, N. H.

Kenneth Holdings and Lester Mills are home on a short furlough. William Gordon is on leave from the Navy.

Burton Dyer, U. S. Navy and Mrs. Dyer came Sunday from Charles-town, Mass., and are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dyer.

Miss Ruth Kittredge who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ned Kittredge have returned to Hartford.

Alton Oakes, U. S. Navy is home from Memphis, Tenn.

Co-Pilot Frank Peterson of the Northeastern Airways and Mrs. Peterson have returned to Scituate, Mass.

FOOD FOR VICTORY?

A newspaper dispatch dated March 27 states that 48,000 cans of evaporated milk which had been stored in Philadelphia for the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation was ordered dumped because of spoilage. The milk was packed 43 cans to the case and had a value of approximately $3.60 a case.

Even with shortages and rationing, many American families are eating better today than ever before.

Patriotism Separates Pastor, Parsonage Partner and Parish

FALL RIVER, Mass.—North Methodist Church of this city recently contributed both the man in its pulpit and the lady in its parsonage to the war effort. On the same day that the Rev. Raymond T. Mattheson, 29, received his commission as a First Lieutenant in the Army Chaplains Corps, his wife, Elizabeth Rowell Mattheson, formerly of Haverill, Mass., was sworn in as a Private in the WAC. Chaplain Mattheson was brought up in Lawrence, Mass., and educated at Boston University.

So far as is known this is the first instance of a minister and his wife joining the colors at the same time. He is now in Chaplains School at Harvard University. She's in Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Brooks of Philadelphia—

"There is a Steam Boat goes from here to Castine and Deer Isle direct and Mr. Foster thinks I should be much pleased with a trip down there and I think we may go next month, perhaps."

She began a diary in 1836, in which she made brief daily records for 30 years. Early in 1857 she tells of a visit to Exeter. She mentions visits to Mrs. Hurd, Mrs. Stevens, Miss Emery, Mrs. Soule and John Emery—all related to her through the Emery family. March 11 she called with Mrs. Stevens on Margaret Emery. Perhaps it was at this time that Margaret Emery then approaching the 80's told her cousin, Elizabeth Thompson, something like this:

"In 1789, George Washington came to Exeter. I can see him now—riding on a snow white horse. My but he was a handsome figure of a man! His secretary, Tobias Lear, a Portsmouth man was with him.

Capt. Simon Wiggin was in command of the Exeter Artillery Company and fired a salute of 13 guns. Everybody in Exeter turned out to see the President. President Washington got to Exeter at 10 a. m. the morning of Nov. 4. They had planned to have breakfast at the tavern of my sister, Elizabeth Polson. I had begged Elizabeth to let me wait on the President's table. I wasn't quite 17. While they were eating, Gen. Washington kept looking at me and pretty soon he leaned forward and said something to Col. Folsom, my brother-in-law. Samuel roared so you could hear him clear to the Court House.

"That's my wife's sister, Noah Emery's daughter."

Of course the President knew that father had been clerk of the Provincial Congress and clerk to New Hampshire's first House of Representatives, and how interested father had been in the Declaration of Independence. (Why I can remember the very day father engraved the authenticated copy of the Declaration in the Journal of the House. Richard and I had to keep pretty mum while he was at it. He used the red ink and spilled it on mother's best table cloth.

Well, to get back to the President. When Samuel said that I had turned as red as a penny and I guess the General was sorry that he had made every one look at me, perhaps he was sorry because he knew father had been dead such a short time.

Anyway, the President pushed back his chair, came over to me and said:

"So this is Noah Emery's daughter! My dear, your father had an important part in shaping the destiny of New Hampshire."

Then, before I could think of a word to say, Gen. Washington kissed me! I was a proud girl that day.

In 1865 Elizabeth Brooks Thompson closed her diary with these words: "Oh God, help me live a life, less selfish and more for others, less selfish, and more for others. Her prayer was answered. She was never idle; knitting, sewing, writing letters to her many relatives and friends, reading, hearing the greatest orators and preachers, keeping up with the world and making a round of visits to relatives and friends from New England to Washington.

She died in Baltimore, at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. Boykin, March 15, 1889, aged 87. She was the last of her generation, and a link between the past and the present—Her father, older than George Washington—she was living within a few weeks of the celebration in 1889 of the centennial of the inauguration of George Washington as first President. Her great-nephew, James Emery Brooks of Glen Ridge, New Jersey, has very vivid recollections of his "Aunt Lizzie Thompson," which go back to 1874 and 1875, when she visited at his home in Scranton, Pennsylvania. After her death, her diaries were passed on to this same great-nephew who prizes them highly.

Marion MacG. Springer
Rose Hill Farm
Owl's Head:

I am indebted to James Emery Brooks, and his book, "My Great-grandfather's House in Exeter, N. H."

COURIER-GAZETTE CROSSWORD PUZZLE
Answer to this puzzle on Page Eight.

HORIZONTAL
1-Skin irritation
5-To the sheltered side
9-Gloomy
11-Apothecaries measure (pl.)
12-Propellers
13-And (Latin)
15-Myself
16-Mischievous children
17-A falsehood
18-Butts
20-A beverage
21-Foundations
22-Golf mounds
24-Spurts
26-New set of men
28-An ins. at 29-Locks
32-Grassy meadow
33-Those to whom a lease is granted
36-Evening (Poet.)
38-A game
39-Implies
42-Bargain

HORIZONTAL (Cont.)
44-Consumes
45-Pig-pen
47-Meals
48-Kitchen utensil
50-Entry in an account
52-Fifty-one
53-Tantalum (abbr.)
54-Remove the outer coat
55-Almost
56-Acquires knowledge
57-Makes a mistake
58-Final

VERTICAL
1-Image
2-Distinguishing features
3-Seal with wax
4-Owens
5-Birds of the cuckoo family
6-Capital of Peru
7-Use
8-Feminine suffix (Fr.)
10-Ingreedient in bread
11-Metric measure (pl.)

VERTICAL (Cont.)
14-An open braced framework
15-Joined
16-Stretched tight
19-Looks
21-Head covering (pl.)
22-Parts of a dress
25-Father
27-Because
30-Wild (Scott.)
31-Most comfortable
33-Behold
34-Heavenly body
35-Only
36-Lizards
37-Comparative suffix
38-Long note
39-Pertaining to birth
41-Scuffs
43-Prefix. Upon
45-Trigonometrical term
46-Period of time
48-Kind of rubber
49-Examine
51-Mistress (abbr.)
54-Chum

MATINICUS
Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Young spent the week-end in Rockland.

E. H. Ripley has returned from Rockland where he spent several days on business.

W. L. Ames has been making extensive repairs to his barn, Clement Hill, being the workman.

Miss Snow held a Memorial service at the church Sunday night. Betty Simpson of Criehaven sang, "In the Sweet By and By," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Cora Young, and Gracie Philbrook, Margery and Shirley Simpson gave recitations.

Strawberry blossoms are plentiful, which indicates happiness later on. Just remember where you saw the blossoms.

Mrs. Ruth Stinchfield and daughter Cleo of Rockland came out last Tuesday on the Mary-A, returning the same day.

Mrs. W. B. Young and son "Brad" of Rockland have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Young for a few days.

Mrs. Julia Ames and daughter "Jackie" of Vinalhaven were guests of friends and relatives recently, making the trip on the lobster smack.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Philbrook are living in the house recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ames and owned by Carl Young.

Norman Thompson and a party from Rockland were here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bunker and son Albert, were week-end visitors in Rockland.

Orris Philbrook went to Rockland Monday, returning the following day and bringing his mother and brother who resided in West Harswell the past Winter.

WEST ROCKPORT
Mrs. Russell Nash of Newton, Mass., was week-end holiday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Laine.

Mrs. Emma V. Leach is at her home here for the Summer after a Winter's sojourn in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Roberta Martin and daughter Patty arrived Monday from West Palm Beach, Fla., and are at the Nutt homestead with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crockett. Mrs. Martin is employed as bookkeeper at the Maine Blueberry Growers Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamalainen of Portland and Martin Hamalainen Sr. went Thursday to Boston where Mr. Hamalainen Sr. will attend a clinic. Young Donald Hamalainen will visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keller during their absence.

Walter Tolman and daughter Luella of Monkton, Md. were recent guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Alice Tolman.

Miss Hazel Nutt has arrived home from the U. of M. for the Summer vacation. She will visit her father, Robert J. Nutt in Pennsylvania for a few weeks.

Mrs. Arthur Clark, who has been at Knox Hospital since February because of a broken bone so far recovered as to have the cast fully removed Saturday. She will be at the hospital for a time yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings who have been living in the Cas Hussey house during the Winter have moved to the Henry Bryant house on Mt. Pleasant St. They have sold the Hussey house to a family from Rockland who are now occupying it.

Never before in history has the fighting man had available the medical care and equipment this government is giving our war wounded today.

for much of the material in this sketch. Noah Emery did make the official copy of the Declaration for New Hampshire in red ink. So far as I have been able to ascertain, it is the only official copy of that immortal document in existence and it is second in importance only the original. Margaret Emery was killed by Washington under much the same circumstances as I have tried to depict. She died in 1862 at the age of 90. She was never married. Elizabeth Brooks Thompson saw her in Exeter in 1861.

M. M. S.

Mentions Other Kilns
E. H. Philbrick Supplements The Interesting Reminiscences Of "I'm Forgotten"

Rockland, June 1.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

To "My Rockland's" very interesting articles about the lime industry, little can be added. He mentioned the Five Kilns. There were also: Big Cobb, Little Cobb, Peter Lynn Haly, Bob Thomas, Gregory, Bird, Pea Vine, Achorn Pets and others.

A. J. Bird & Company were the pioneers, I believe, in changing from the burning of wood to coal. The lime industry began to use coal in the early 90's, and tried many different ideas before success was attained. It was somewhat cheaper than wood but I believe it was harder on the kilns as a wood-burning kiln would often go a year before repairs would be they had to be repaired oftener. I believe the record was made at the Achorn kiln which ran 14 months when new, before repairs were made. It was built by A. J. Bird & Co.

The Twin Kilns were located where the late William Gregory lost this arm, crushed between granite blocks.

E. H. Philbrick.

PLEASANT POINT
Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Seavey were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vose.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow of Belfast are spending a vacation at Victor Whittier's cottage on Gay Island.

Mrs. Addie Warren and William Upham of Camden visited Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Seavey recently.

Charles Gould and sisters, Misses Marion and Bertha Gould of Somerville, Mass., have arrived at their Summer home for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hahn of Rockland and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Robinson and daughter were guests last Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh and son Donald of Newton Upper Falls, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Rodman Flinchbaugh of New York spent the holiday week-end at their Summer home here.

Miss Gwendolyn Stimpson has employment at Alonzo Seavey's for the Summer.

The remains of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Fillmore and son Karl Fillmore of New Harbor were brought here Wednesday for burial in Pleasant View cemetery. The family had perished early Sunday morning when their home was burned to the ground from a fire of undetermined origin. The family at one time resided here and Mr. Fillmore was a native of this community. Among the survivors is Mrs. Florence Orne, his sister, of this town. Rev. H. W. Van Deman of Danversville officiated at the services.

NORTH HAVEN
The seventh annual banquet of the High School Alumni will be held June 9 at 7:30 at the Grange hall. Annual dues, 25 cents payable to H. S. Beverage, Sec.-Treas. adv.

44-45

HELEN, THE HOT-BREAD SUCCESS
SAYS—

My family likes hot-breads. I give 'em the best, because I use HEARTH CLUB—the Rumford-made baking powder that's sold more than 100,000,000 cans.

HEARTH CLUB
WHOLESALE KNOWN AS HEARTH CLUB
VALUABLE COUPON ON EACH CAN

MORE FLAVOR, MORE SIZE

PEPSI-COLA
IT'S PEPSI, GET WISE

Pepsi-Cola Company, Long Island City, N. Y.
FRANCHISED BOTTLER: PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO. OF AUBURN

THOMASTON

CLAYTON O. CONDON
Correspondent
Tel. 112-3

Mrs. Alice Moore of Bangor spent the week-end with Miss Ruth Kelliher.

Mrs. Evelyn Snow has returned home after six weeks visit in Boston and vicinity.

Mrs. Robert Rollins of Camden spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Luther Clark.

Miss Barbara Sullivan, who is employed at Togus, was a week-end visitor at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullivan.

Mrs. Mae Gammon of Providence, R. I. is visiting Mrs. Leona Reed for a few weeks.

Weymouth Grange will have a dinner Wednesday at noon.

Miss Leona Frisbee, a student at Fisher's Business School in Boston, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Frisbee.

Mrs. Katherine Crawford will entertain members of the Mayflower Temple P.S., at a game party at her home on Knox street Friday night. Each member is asked to take several prizes.

Ensign William F. Ceighton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ceighton formerly of this town, is in the Marine Hospital at Brighton, Mass., very ill.

S. Sgt. Roy Whitten of Camp Shelby Miss., and Mrs. Whitten are enjoying his furlough at their home in Long Cove, visiting relatives and friends in this town.

The Garden Club was honored to have at its latest meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanly Danforth, who gave a colorful and entertaining word picture of a representative week in her busy life in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The meeting will meet Thursday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Leila W. Smalley, Knox street. Miss Rita Smith will conduct a Horticultural Quiz and Mrs. J. Edward Elliot will tell of "Flowers in Design."

James Creighton, who is attending the University of Maine is visiting his two grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. James Creighton during his month's vacation.

At the High School Thursday at 7:30 to 10 p. m., there will be a Shop Exhibit, Grade 7-8. High School Project, also Aeroplane Club projects. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Leona Reed has returned home after spending two months with her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Perry Sperber in Providence. She was accompanied home by Dr. and Mrs. Sperber and daughter, Gayle.

Mrs. Herbert Standish of Waldoboro, was a visitor Friday at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edith Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Danforth, who have been visiting Mrs. Danforth's mother, Mrs. George V. Hanley, have left for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

A. Eugene Jellison, formerly of this town, graduates from Coburn Classical Institute in Waterville. This week Mr. Jellison will deliver the honor oration Thursday.

E. Payson George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Payson George, was among the 94 boys who graduated

June 4 from The Hill School, Pottstown, Penn. A student at The Hill for the past three years, George was active in both the extra-curricular and athletic life at the school. He was a member of the Press Club and School Band.

Rodney E. Jordan of Brooklyn Heights, Thomaston, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Marie E. Jordan to Stanley Warren Macgowan of 22 Conant street, Portland, son of Mrs. Stanley Macgowan, Sr. The wedding is to be June 30 at the home of the bride-to-be in Thomaston. Miss Jordan graduated from Thomaston High School and Ballard Business School in Rockland. For the past two years she has been in Augusta where she is employed at the State Office of Price Administration. Mr. Macgowan was also graduated from Thomaston High School, attend Wentworth Institute and also took apprenticeship at the Southworth Machine Shop in Portland. He is employed by the Casco Bottling Company in Portland. They plan to live in Portland and Miss Jordan is completing her duties in Augusta on June 24.

Graduation Week

The school year will be brought to a close this week with a series of senior activities. The last assembly will be held at the High School auditorium Thursday morning at 8:30. The baccalaureate services will be held at the Baptist church Sunday at 7:30. Rev. H. F. Leach will be the speaker, assisted by Dr. H. W. Flagg.

The graduation exercises will be held Wednesday at 8 o'clock. The Alumni banquet will be held at the Masonic Temple Thursday, followed by the ball at the Watts Hall.

A Pronounced Success

The annual Senior Class Play was presented in Watts hall, Friday to an appreciative audience, who pronounced the performance a real success.

"Wings Over Washington" by Clark Willard, is the story of the perfecting of a destructive ray on a lonely island. The inventor is menaced by enemy agents in his own household and demonstrates his assertion that no hostile wings can fly over Washington.

Lightening, enjoyably, this serious mystery were the comedy characters Jean Crie, as the charming Russian girl, and Russell Kelley, as the hick detective. Lois O'Neil Richards portrayed with humor the interested housekeeper. Eleanor Gregory sustained with ability the lines of the ever present secretary. Bob Logan, always in trouble, proved an efficient actor in saving lost lines in the final performance. Summers, the professor's trusted pupil, gave clear hints of his duplicity. The inventor, Professor Hardy, had old mannerisms and his serious movements were played impressively by Frederic Haley. The cocky little "Comptroller" Seville acted satisfactorily by Elbridge MacFarland, received his deserts.

Harvey Hall whose singing had no harmful effects upon his scientific research, was given the alternating boisterousness and efficiency necessary by Peter Lynch. Phyllis Hall who possesses a remarkably clear stage voice, acted the keen P. B. I. agent admirably. Nora, the sick house maid, whose brief appearances preluded her death from

ROCKPORT

E. A. CHAMPNEY
Correspondent
Tel. 2229

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Patterson of Augusta spent the weekend at their home on Ansbury Hill.

Mrs. Barbara Crawford returned Thursday from Perth Amboy, N. J., where she spent a week with her mother, Mrs. O. E. Wishman. She was met in Portland by Mrs. Beulah Rivard who returned home with her.

Debra Grafton has been spending a week with her great-grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Crozier.

The Red Cross rooms will be open Tuesday afternoon and evening. Work will be on surgical dressings. The Thimble Club will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Louise Cavanaugh.

Miss Mary Duceit, a student nurse at the Central Maine General Hospital, Lewiston, is spending a three weeks vacation at her home.

The Junior Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday night at the Methodist Church.

The Johnson Society will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Marion Ingraham.

The new flag which was unfurled at the Memorial Day exercises on the Village Green was bought by Mrs. Cecilia Cain with the funds left after paying for the new monument to soldiers of All Wars.

The Baptist Ladies Circle will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Christie Whitney.

Earl Ogier of Richards Hill is a surgical patient at Knox Hospital.

Guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roland T. Crockett were Langdon Crockett and son Robert, Mrs. Margaret Carr of Rockland, Mrs. Harvey Crockett, Thomaston, Miss Amy Fuller, Hallowell and Frank Thomas, Camden.

Rockport High School Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Methodist Church. Rev. James Barr will officiate.

The poisoned water, made such a small character part.

The most outstanding piece of individual acting was offered by Eleanor Nelson, who in her defense of the slave spy, Arthur Anderson, surpassed amateur acting.

The following assisted in the preparation of the play and to them as well as to the actors, belongs much praise for the smoothness of the performance: Directed by Maude P. Thayer; stage manager, Charles Smith; assistant stage manager, Gilbert Beattie; understudy, Betty Fields; Property committee, Mary Luce, Jean Gilchrist, Leatrice Davis; business manager, Marilyn Maloney; assistant business manager, Elaine Dodge; ushers, Rose Zephier, Francis Haskell, Myra Lash, Jeannette Wales, Virginia Stanley, Marjorie Cushing, Phyllis Prior and Mary Richards.

MARTINSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Cook and daughter of Philadelphia have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Cook the past week. Mr. Cook went Sunday to Boston to enter the Navy.

Miss Alvahene Pierson of New York spent several days the past week with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robinson entertained at a family party on the holiday Mrs. Ardelle Hazelton and Winslow Robinson of Wileys Corner, Sgt. and Mrs. Philip Hazelton and son of Chichester, Mass., and Miss Ruth Hazelton of Waterville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. Allen of New York City spent the last week at their cottage, The Pointed Firs.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robinson of Warren, Mass., and Miss Anna Demond of Danvers, Mass., are at their home, The Anchorage, for the Summer.

Mrs. Willis Hooper and daughter, Sylvia of Rockland spent several days here recently.

Pfc. Norman Stanley, stationed at Blythesville, Ark., has been passing a furlough with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hupper and son, Joel of New York are at their Summer home, Spruce Coves. Mr. Hupper returns this week to New York.

The Ladies Circle meets Thursday with Mrs. Edith Maxwell.

TENANT'S HARBOR

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and son have vacated the William J. Hastings house and moved to Pleasant Point, Cushing, where they have employment on the Wallmar estate.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Leach of Fernald have been spending some time at their home in this place.

Mrs. Gilbert Auld of Pownal was recent guest of Mrs. Alice Murphy for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Comstock of Rockland are passing this week at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma M. Torrey. Mr. Comstock is employed in the stock room of Snow

CAMDEN

MISS NELLIE AMES
Correspondent
Tel. 2340

A union service was held Sunday in the Opera House in observance of the Y.M.C.A. Centennial.

Rev. John Feaster of Bangor was the speaker. Appropriate music was presented by the Glee Club, Philip Wentworth sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Miss Frances Leonard also rendered a beautiful solo.

Mrs. Austin Rankin and daughter, Edna went Sunday to Boston and expect to return home Tuesday.

There will be a softball game today with the Camden Girls Softball team challenging the Alumnae. It is understood that several school teachers are in the line-up and also some others who haven't played much softball. However they have held a practice and expect to give the undergraduates a good game.

A chapel service will be presented Wednesday by the Senior Class. This will be the last time that it will be possible to assemble all students of all classes. A short program will be presented.

Mrs. Ruth Collier will present a piano recital at St. Thomas Episcopal Parish house Friday at 4 p. m. The program is: Piano Transcription from Pifates of Penance patriotic song in costume, pupils of Grade 1, Elm Street School by Gilbert and Sullivan, Joye True; Little Defaider and Flag of My Country, Ginette Perrin; duet, Elizabeth Waltz, Ginette Perrin and Mrs. Collier; selection by rhythm band of Grade III; March of the Trombones, School Carnival and Gray Pussy Willows, Arlene Magee; duet, Betty's Wooden Shoe, Arlene Magee and Mrs. Collier; Coast Guard Patrol, Jerry Burkett; Song, Tu Mexico, Boys' Quartet, Grade VI; The Aviator and Tumble Weed, Kathleen Duffy; duet, On a Visit, Kathleen Duffy and Mrs. O'Leary; On Horseback, Frank Rankin; Hungarian Dance, Joye True; duet, Bunch of Roses, Joye True and Mrs. Collier; Song, The Garden, 8 girls of Grade VI; Waltz of the Flowers by Tchaikowski, Grace Lenfest; accordion solo by Minnie Tranquillo; May Night, Joan Sawyer; Brave Heroes of Bataan, Katherine Libby.

Shipyards.

Mrs. Margaret Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Benson of Rockland are at their home here.

Capt. Charles Holbrook and daughter Mrs. Grace and Mr. Brown are to have an apartment for the Summer at the home of Capt. Orris Holbrook. Mr. Brown is a salesman in the Maine district.

I have an oversupply of Year Books. Will any of my policyholders who would like one or two please let me know? It is a notebook with half a page for every day in the year. S. A. Lavender, Insurance, 151 Main St., Thomaston, Tel. 4—adv.

Save

used food cans to help win the war. Remove labels, wash, flatten. Put in separate container next to your trash can. Save for local pickup.

Buy War Bonds

For Future Needs

America's Finer Tea

"SALADA"

TEA

In Packages and Tea Bags at Your Grocer's

USED CARS BOUGHT AND SOLD

1934 Terraplane $150.00

1936 Ford 225.00

1939 Chevrolet 795.00

1938 Cadillac 995.00

1936 Ford 100.00

LINK'S TRAILER SALES

61 Park St., Tel. 1266 Rockland 40-1f

A Jubilee Celebration

(Continued from Page One)

sent to Mr. Farwell a few years ago by his cousins Charles A. Farwell and F. Evans Farwell. It will be used to announce the Coming of Our Lord in the Eucharist, the Angels and other acts of devotion.

The old bell, which Father Kenyon said had a "sharp and saucy" tone, was christened St. Michael, in memory of Edward J. Clifton, who rang the bell for many years. It will be used as a call bell for the Worship of God. It was cast in Boston in 1883, but no record of its original christening has been located.

Benediction of other gifts included The Shrine for the Book of Remembrance, listing and describing the several gifts to the church, compiled by Miss Frances Chatto of Rockland, and Mrs. Albert Heald of Thomaston; 16 Cathedral glass windows, the gift of St. Thomas' parish of Camden, and installed by Mrs. Alton Decrow, Mrs. Elmer Campbell, Capt. and Mrs. Keryn at Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Erol Trainor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. House, Mrs. Harold P. Blodgett, Miss Maude Staples, Dr. Gilmore W. Soule, John Mason, Wallace M. Little, Philip Sulides, The Woman's Auxiliary and the Vestry, and a portrait of the Rev. George Slattery, the Father Founder of the Parish, and the gift of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Lawrence Slattery.

Three wood carvings from France, the gift of Mrs. Ella Frances Rice, in memory of her husband, Col. Mervyn at Rice, will receive benediction at a later service, as Mrs. Rice, a hospital patient, was unable to be in attendance.

Rev. Mr. Kenyon presided over the parish supper, introducing at the head table: Mrs. Ellie Orne Calderwood of Vinalhaven, chairman of the Memorial Organ Fund; Miss Margaret Buttmore of Rockland; Rev. William E. Berger of Camden; Mrs. Lillian Kenyon of Rockland; Mrs. George Munroe of Auburn; Rev. Robert Sweetser of St. Michael's Church in Auburn and Mrs. Sweetser; Miss Abbie Folland, organist of St. Peter's; and Rev. Tom Akeley, rector of Christ Church in Gardiner.

During the introductions, Father Berger was felicitated on his birthday, a cake, with lighted candles, made by Mrs. Walter C. Ladd, being conveyed to his place at the table by Mrs. William Brewster. Father Perger responded briefly.

Mrs. Calderwood read an interesting paper concerning persons connected with the church when she resided in Rockland, making particular reference to those of the Class of 1893-1894, and the principal speaker, following the supper was Father Sweetser of Auburn, who gave a stirring address on the great Saints of the church a century ago.

Nathan Farwell was chairman of the jubilee supper and had the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Livingston, Miss Ruth Harrington, Mrs. Abbie Folland, Mrs. Keryn at Rice, Miss Margaret Buttmore, Richard Spring, Harry Bradley, Charles Thornton, Carlyle Brown, J. and Jean Sulides. The waitresses were: Mrs. Pauline Brewster, Mrs. Pauline Hutchinson, Miss Fern Brown and Mrs. Herbert Waldron.

School Baseball

(Continued from Page Two)

Davis, s 3 0 0 2 2
Neal, 3b, p 1b 4 1 3 4 0 0
Kelly, lb, p 5 0 2 10 2 1
Beattie, ss 4 0 2 1 2 1
Smith, c, rf 1 0 0 1 0 0
Sawyer, rf 1 0 0 0 0 0
Sullivan, lf 4 0 0 2 0 2
Thorndike, rf 2 0 0 0 0 0
Miller, cf 1 0 0 0 0 0
Kangas, p 1 0 0 0 2 0
Pierpont, c 3 1 1 8 1 0
35 4 10 27 10 6

APPLETON RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keating of Reading, Mass., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pitman.

Mrs. Ida Mitchell and infant daughter were guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams.

Dinner guests Memorial Day at the home of L. N. Moody were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marden and daughter Betty, Miss Gertrude Chick, Miss Lucy Moody of Pittsfield, Mrs. Ruth Mitchell, and daughters Rebecca and Gail, Mrs. Laurence Moody and children Kendall and Cynthia.

Mrs. Hazel Verrill is caring for Mary Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fuller and Miss Maude Fuller attended the graduation exercises at Farmington State Normal School, Miss Eleanor Fuller being one of the graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ronco, Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson Pitman and son Jon Perley of North Vassalboro were visitors Memorial Day at Albert Pitman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Janness Keller and son and Mrs. Dorothy Hibbert of Lincolnville were callers Tuesday on Mrs. Elizabeth Newbert.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Keating and Evelyn Pitman were Rangeley visitors Monday.

Norman Post of Franklin, Mass., is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Ada Proctor.

Max Wendland has employment in Camden.

Miss Edith Harris is at the home of her brother, Alvah Harris of Tenant's Harbor.

A. H. Bond was a recent caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wiley.

Thomaston

ab r h p o a e
Williams, ss 4 2 1 3 2 2
Burkett, p 5 2 1 2 4 0
Hudson, q 6 1 1 5 2 0
Bryant, 3b 5 1 3 2 2 0
True, rf 5 1 0 4 0 0
Leonard, lf 6 2 2 1 0 0
Knight, cf 3 1 3 0 0 0
Wadsworth, 2b 4 1 0 2 3 1
Grindle, 1b 3 1 1 8 0 0
McKeen, 1b 1 0 0 0 0 0
37 12 12 27 13 3

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Spaulding, cf 3b 5 0 0 0 3 1
Neal, 3b, p 1b 4 1 3 4 0 0
Kelly, lb, p 5 0 2 10 2 1
Beattie, ss 4 0 2 1 2 1
Smith, c, rf 1 0 0 1 0 0
Sawyer, rf 1 0 0 0 0 0
Sullivan, lf 4 0 0 2 0 2
Thorndike, rf 2 0 0 0 0 0
Miller, cf 1 0 0 0 0 0
Kangas, p 1 0 0 0 2 0
Pierpont, c 3 1 1 8 1 0
35 4 10 27 10 6

APPLETON RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keating of Reading, Mass., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pitman.

Mrs. Ida Mitchell and infant daughter were guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams.

Dinner guests Memorial Day at the home of L. N. Moody were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marden and daughter Betty, Miss Gertrude Chick, Miss Lucy Moody of Pittsfield, Mrs. Ruth Mitchell, and daughters Rebecca and Gail, Mrs. Laurence Moody and children Kendall and Cynthia.

Mrs. Hazel Verrill is caring for Mary Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fuller and Miss Maude Fuller attended the graduation exercises at Farmington State Normal School, Miss Eleanor Fuller being one of the graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ronco, Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson Pitman and son Jon Perley of North Vassalboro were visitors Memorial Day at Albert Pitman's.

Mr. and Mrs. Janness Keller and son and Mrs. Dorothy Hibbert of Lincolnville were callers Tuesday on Mrs. Elizabeth Newbert.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Keating and Evelyn Pitman were Rangeley visitors Monday.

Norman Post of Franklin, Mass., is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Ada Proctor.

Max Wendland has employment in Camden.

Miss Edith Harris is at the home of her brother, Alvah Harris of Tenant's Harbor.

A. H. Bond was a recent caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wiley.

Thomaston

ab r h p o a e
Williams, ss 4 2 1 3 2 2
Burkett, p 5 2 1 2 4 0
Hudson, q 6 1 1 5 2 0
Bryant, 3b 5 1 3 2 2 0
True, rf 5 1 0 4 0 0
Leonard, lf 6 2 2 1 0 0
Knight, cf 3 1 3 0 0 0
Wadsworth, 2b 4 1 0 2 3 1
Grindle, 1b 3 1 1 8 0 0
McKeen, 1b 1 0 0 0 0 0
37 12 12 27 13 3

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

NORTH SEARSMONT

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cole of Camden were visitors for a day recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Merriam.

Robert Thurston of Rome, N. Y. and sister Katherine of Appleton were recent callers at the Maddocks farm.

Pfc. Philip T. Maddocks, son of Elden Maddocks, has been home on furlough. After serving three years in the Canal Zone, he is now stationed at Camp Irwin, Barstow, Calif. His brother, Pfc. Elden B. Maddocks, Jr. is on Oahu, Hawaii.

Lester Hook of Skowhegan was recent overnight guest at the Hook homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Merriam, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Elden Maddocks were business callers the past week in Washington and Union.

Farmers in this vicinity are busy putting in their crops. The lack of rain has created a problem.

GLENMERE

Mrs. Norman Simmons of Thomaston was weekend guest of her aunt, Mrs. Rosa Teele.

Mrs. Alice Washburn who was in Rockland during the Winter, has arrived at her cottage, Beau-bel for the Summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Merrill of Cambridge, Mass., were at their cottage last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Keene of Rockland were recent guests of Mrs. Keene's father, Byron Davis.

Mrs. Watson Barter of Tenant's Harbor is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley. The latter was a patient at Knox Hospital the past three weeks.

Donald Watt who has employment in Bath, passed the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Watt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warel have returned to Lynn, Mass., having spent two weeks at their cottage, "Home Acres."

Miss Edith Harris is at the home of her brother, Alvah Harris of Tenant's Harbor.

A. H. Bond was a recent caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wiley.

Thomaston

ab r h p o a e
Williams, ss 4 2 1 3 2 2
Burkett, p 5 2 1 2 4 0
Hudson, q 6 1 1 5 2 0
Bryant, 3b 5 1 3 2 2 0
True, rf 5 1 0 4 0 0
Leonard, lf 6 2 2 1 0 0
Knight, cf 3 1 3 0 0 0
Wadsworth, 2b 4 1 0 2 3 1
Grindle, 1b 3 1 1 8 0 0
McKeen, 1b 1 0 0 0 0 0
37 12 12 27 13 3

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Lynd, 2b 4 2 2 1 0 1

Social Matters

General Agent Frank L. Carsey of the Maine Central Railroad, and Mrs. Carsey are spending a few days at their cottage at Sebec lake.

Mrs. Annie M. Flint, who has been visiting her son, Wendall C. Flint, has returned to Boston.

Mrs. Bernice Freeman, Glen Cove entertained the Hatetiquit Club at last week's meeting. Bridge honors went to Mrs. Mabel Thorndike, Mrs. Annie Colomore and Mrs. Mattie Davies. Luncheon was served.

Opportunity Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Clara Gregory. 22 members being present. The welfare committee reported that 21 calls had been made in May. Games were enjoyed. Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson and Mrs. Aurilla Verner assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Lizzie French will entertain EFA Club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Masonic street.

Mrs. C. Earle Ludwick is a surgical patient at the Waldo County General Hospital, Belfast.

Mrs. Donald P. Perry has returned from a three-week's visit with Capt. and Mrs. Charles P. McAleer, Jr. (Felice Perry) in Phoenixville, Pa. Capt. McAleer is public relations officer at the 100 building Valley Forge Hospital, where wonderful work is being done in plastic surgery.

Golden Rod Chapter will have degree work at meeting Friday night. Supper will be served at 10:15.

Miss Mary N. Billings of Stonington, delivered the salutatory at the 75th annual University of Maine class day exercises Saturday afternoon. Miss Billings also was named recipient of the Portland Alumnae watch as the senior woman who did the most for the university during her four years.

Mrs. Fred L. Linekin entertained Kent's Hill Mite Club yesterday afternoon at the Linekin cottage, Dynamite Beach. High scores at contract went to Mrs. A. D. Macey and Mrs. George L. St. Clair. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ray E. Eaton, June 19.

Visit Lucien K. Green & Son's second floor, 18 School street, Odd Fellows Block, City, for Furs, Fur Coats and Cloth Coats at moderate prices.

MODERN PRISCILLA SHOES

Give you a beautifully fitting shoe for a moderate price

We carry them in widths from AA to EEE BLACK and WHITE

Light and airy for summer—All at one price

$4.00

R. E. NUTT Shoe Store

436 MAIN ST., ROCKLAND

Prof. C. A. Holden of Hanover, N. H. has arrived for another season at Rockledge Inn, Spruce Head, but manifold duties will keep the New Hampshire legislator pretty much on the jump. One of these duties will be his attendance upon the Republican National Convention which meets later in the month in Chicago. Prof. Holden goes as a delegate at large from the Granite State and when the rolls called he will deposit his ballot in favor of Gov. Dewey. Later in the season he will make his annual fortnight's sojourn at Menhaden. Prof. Holden's first act upon arriving in Maine was to attend Friday's meeting of the Rockland Rotary Club, where he always receives an enthusiastic welcome.

Richard Butler, former Rockland merchant, is a patient at the Maine General Hospital in Portland, and would be glad to hear from friends in this city.

Mrs. Kate Gould and Mrs. Mary Hoffes spent the weekend in Lewiston. They went to attend the funeral of their nephew, James A. Deonhue, Jr., A.M.M. 2c, U.S.N., who was killed in a plane crash May 30 in Virginia. The whole crew of 11 were instantly killed. James Jr.'s father was born in Rockland and spent his early youth here.

Mrs. J. Charles MacDonald is spending a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Richard W. Gray in East Orange, N. J.

To Top Off The Plans Fifth War Loan Chairmen Will Meet Here Wednesday Night

Matters pertaining to the Fifth War Loan will be discussed at a meeting called for 7:30 tomorrow night at the School street offices of the Rockland Loan & Building Association.

Leon A. Dodge, veteran chairman of the Knox-Lincoln District, will preside, all chairmen, vice chairmen and key workers being invited. Quotas for Knox County will be discussed and drive details brought up to the minute.

Joseph W. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Rockland is general chairman of the committee and has associated with him, Edward J. Heller, Joseph Emery, Herbert C. Newbegin, Lendon C. Jackson, Jr., I. Lawton Bray, Joseph E. Blaisdell, H. P. Blodgett, Edwin L. Brown, Jerome C. Burrows, James Connellan, Horatio C. Cowan, Elmer C. Davis, Lawrence J. Dandeneau, H. Ernest Keywood, Harold S. Leach, Lawrence Miller, Lincoln E. McRae, John Pemero, William H. Romanoff, Charles A. Rose, Jr., Edwin L. Scariott, Ralph L. Wiggin.

Mrs. Horatio C. Cowan will head the Women's Division for Knox County and Mrs. Sanford W. Delano will be chairman of the City Women's Division. John M. Richardson will be chairman of publicity associated with James A. Moore of the Portland Press Herald.

WED. & THURS. DANCE! SING! IT'S JOYOUS! The Professor himself—hep and pep! Lovely Marilyn Maxwell—verve and curve! With a grand cast of fun-makers, music-makers in a jamboree of joy and jive!

KAY KYSER MEM'S SWING FEVER

With MARILYN MAXWELL WILLIAM GARGAN NAT PENDLETON LENA HORNE Added Attraction "THE NEGRO SOLDIER" Shows 2-6:30-8:45

START FRIDAY "The Hitler Gang" Last Times Today CHAS. BOYER IN "GASLIGHT"

Tel. 892 Strand ROCKLAND

"IVY" HAS GOLDEN JUBILEE

Eastern Star Chapter In Warren Does Itself Proud-Looking Backward

The Golden Jubilee Anniversary observance of Ivy Chapter, O.E.S. Friday night was climaxed in announcement of the appointment of Mrs. Carrie R. Smith to commission of Grand Representative to Puerto Rico from the Grand Chapter, O.E.S. of Maine. This announcement was made by Miss Mabel De Shon of Portland, past Worthy Grand Matron and present Grand Secretary of the Grand Chapter of Maine. Mrs. Smith is a past district deputy grand matron of district 11, and is a past worthy matron of Ivy Chapter, O.E.S. She served as usher at the Grand Chapter Program numbers during the evening included two readings by Miss Ida Stevens of Rockland; three vocal selections by Raychel Emerson, accompanied by Dr. Judson L. Ord; history of Ivy Chapter, prepared by the secretary, Mrs. Laura Starrett and read by Mrs. Carrie Smith; a memorial service for the deceased members of Ivy Chapter, O.E.S. the past 50 years of its existence; and a ceremony honoring charter members of Ivy Chapter, present numbering 8, with gifts wrapped in gold paper.

Lady charter members were also presented with corsages of yellow roses. Charter members thus honored were: George Walker, first worthy patron of Ivy Chapter, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Sadie Barrows, the first secretary; Mrs. Abbie Newbert the first conductress; Miss Frances K. Spear, the first associate conductress; Mrs. Catherine Wade, the first Ruth; Mrs. Clara Smith of Rockland and G. Dudley Gould of Warren. Charter members living who were unable to be present, but who were remembered with gifts are: Mrs. Della Hayes of Somerville, Mass., Edgar Crawford of Thomaston and Robert Walker of Warren.

Present at the observance was besides Miss De Shon, Mrs. Mildred K. Collins of Auburn, member of Anchor Chapter of Seaport, who is Grand Conductress of the Grand Chapter.

Chapters represented at the observance were, Golden Rod Chapter of Rockland which helped institute Ivy Chapter, Feb. 27, 1894, causing Ivy Chapter to be the second oldest Chapter in the county; Iona Chapter of Portland, Deering Chapter of Portland, Pine Cone of Auburn, Anchor of Seaport, Forget-me-not of South Thomaston and Bethlehem of Pittsfield.

A huge basket of mixed flowers was sent Ivy Chapter from Golden Rod Chapter of Rockland, and Mrs. Clara Watts of Rockland, sent a basket of bronze tulips for the occasion. Commemorating the occasion at the 6:30 banquet was a huge anniversary cake, bearing 50 golden candles. Decorations at the banquet were in gold, the centerpiece a golden Ivy motif, with the figure 50 in the center, flanked with gold-tapers. The Ivy design was repeated in the place cards dated 1894, and 1944, and in golden strips on each table. Lights of the dining room were hooded to make a golden gleam in the room while the banquet was served the 110 that attended.

In the history of the Chapter, it was revealed that the organization took place Feb. 27, 1894, and that there were 66 members at the time which has been increased to 136. The Chapter was organized by Hadley O. Hawes of Hallowell, and the work of the order was performed by the officers of the Golden Rod Chapter of Rockland. Instrumental in starting of it was Alden Wetherbee of Warren, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Rollins of Rockland. Committee appointed in 1894 to name the chapter included Harriet Farker, Beatrice Burgess and Harriet Keating, and at that first meeting, an Ivy grown by Mrs. Belle Walker, was used for decoration. The first officers of the chapter were: Worthy Matron, Effie D. Wetherbee; worthy patron, George W. Walker; associate matron, Melvina Parker; secretary, Sadie Barrows; treasurer, Alice Watts; conductress, Abbie J. Newbert; associate conductress, Frances K. Spear, chaplain, Rev. J. De Mot; marshal, Alice Smith; organist, Flora Wakefield; Adah, Flora Coburn; Ruth, Mrs. Kate Wade; Esther, Florence Blackington; Martha, Martha Newbert; Electa, Della Hayes; warder, Aleda Spear; sentinel, George Teague.

The first candidates were taken in April 20, 1894, and were Mrs. Gleason Young and Guilford Newcombe. The installing officer in 1895 was Jennie Stewart, of Rockland, worthy grand matron. Ivy Chapter, O.E.S., exemplified the work when Orient Chapter of Union was organized May 17, 1895. The first associate patron, following institution of that office was Chester Wyllie, in 1931.

General committee in charge of the 50th anniversary observance, Friday evening, was Helen Maxcy, Edna White, Carrie Smith, Laura Starrett, Grace Campbell, Lina Smith, Tena McCallum, Bernys Jameson, Ada Spear, Emma Norwood, Mildred Gammon, Inez Mathews, Veino Laiho, Fannie Juura; reception, Margaret Sawyer, Nettie Vinal, Eleanor Barrett; banquet, Helen Maxcy, Veino Laiho, Alzada Simmons, Flora McKellar, Nellie Jordan, assisted by Leola Wiley, Judson Lord, Dana Smith, Jr., Lina Smith, LeRoy Smith.

England Crowded So Many U. S. Soldiers There That Officers Are Sleeping In Tents, Says Lt. Munsey

Lieut. Everett A. Munsey, home from England on a leave which will outlast the present month, is spending much of his spare time at Crescent Beach, and doubtless observing what an improvement the weather conditions are compared with those which he experienced in England.

Lieut. Munsey is a member of the ground operations air force, but is not altogether unacquainted with enemy territory as viewed from overhead. Whether he will be recalled to overseas service is problematical.

Reports as to the tremendous armed forces which the United States has in England are by no means exaggerated one judges from a conversation with the Rockland officer.

"If we send many more men there," said he "the island is pretty apt to sink."

So crowded is the kingdom that many of our officers are sleeping in tents.

This And That

Down in Florida thousands of dollars worth of cabbage and other vegetables are left to rot, no market. This is a tragic condition. Hard work and money takes it to garden, and then the great heads in Washington pay no attention to the hard worked gardeners, so full of orders and laws and talk, they let slip the needed help and thus less comes to the farmer.

Someone is advocating this idea, "Blueberry Festivals for Maine." If you could realize the fine flavor that can be put into a blueberry shortcake with a bit of care in the construction, you would never call for any more delicious dessert. I will print, if requested, the recipe.

Out in Kansas City 'tis suggested that if one rhubarb pie now means less strawberry shortcake later, the sacrifice is really too great. But why not take sugar off the ration? The heads of things need sweetening up possibly.

"Lord, keep me from being sorry for myself," is a prayer well worth praying daily.

The germ of failure is feeling sorry for oneself. Incurable unhappiness is caused from chronic feeling sorry for oneself.

Jazz, swing and boogie woogie are the rag time favorites today.

Harold Bell Wright had that sincere quality of effective writing which won the hearts of readers. It is sad to think no more valuable novels will come from his pen. Literary merit was his, given by all critics.

Soon the South hopes to produce newsprint from the easily and fast growing bembow.

There is windswept sweetness In the summer air of June Blossoms everywhere sing in tune.

It was in 1820 when the term "grand opera" was first introduced in France.

All too many women stand up for Communism and the Fascist principles, not really understanding the true drift of all it means. Watch your step, ladies.

The study of individual responsibilities when victory comes is the greatest need today. To be aggressive in this line will gain in fulfillment of peace and a lasting peace. This is where true and valued fundamental principles should be studied with infinite care.

The following was sent to me by a close friend of The Courier-Gazette:

The Steady Subscriber

How dear to our hearts its the steady subscriber,

Who pays in advance at the birth of each year;

And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer.

He never says: "Stop it; I can not afford it; I'm getting more journals than now I can read."

But always says: "Send it; all readers like it—"

In fact, we all think it a help and a need."

How welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum;

How it makes our pulse throb; how it makes our heart dance.

We outwardly thank him; we inwardly bless him—

The steady subscriber who pays in advance. —Evchange.

The country can stand the freeze of strawberries and the loss of cranberries is sad indeed, for they do not grow in every part of the land and the Massachusetts berries are the finest.

In South Central America there is a clock beetle and this queer bug carries lights, also a landing light on its abdomen. The other lights are called head lights. Hope no one thinks to bring this bug to this land.

Research of a new variety is taking place in the Antarctic. A base has been established at Hope Bay, Grahamsland.

Where do movie stars get their roles I wonder do they enter bakeries On some of their nightly strolls I've often have wondered Just how they get their roles.

Owen Brewster Spoke

Brilliant Maine Senator Expressed Timely Views Before Study Group

U. S. Senator Owen Brewster, speaking at a rally of the Rockland Church Women's Study Group Friday night in the Community Building on the subject "The Price of an Enduring Peace," urged the welcoming of an association of nations with the provisions that the United States strengthen its world diplomacy; maintain adequate armament allowance of an all-American system of communications over the world; maintenance of an all-American air system using bases now built in various places, and a merchant marine which would carry from one-third to one-half of our exports and imports.

Senator Brewster introduced by Mrs. Keryn ap Rice, chairman of the study group, mentioned at the start the ride from Dexter to Rockland, by way of Bangor, down the beautiful Penobscot valley, passing scenery equaling, and perhaps surpassing, anything he had seen in a 45,000 mile trip around the world.

Declaring that the fundamental fallacy of totalitarianism was the worship of one person, he cautioned that we should beware of the indispensable man, for whom faith is put in a leader, the people are selling themselves for a mess of bureaucratic pottage. He asked for a return in individualism with community leaders subduing themselves in the service of the people.

Stating that not one of the greater world powers would be willing to allow an international police force to be more powerful than its own military group, Mr. Brewster said that the idea of such a police force had been practically discarded, but he thought that the main powers concerned might agree to the use of such force as would meet any situation which might arise.

Declaring that our fighting men and their leaders are the equal of the long trained German and Japanese armies, and would give a good account of themselves, he said he found the United States diplomatic front in a sorry state wherever he went with the Truman committee. Our diplomats are not being given the proper authority and the British diplomats are ahead of them in all matters. He blamed this on either the preoccupation in the war effort or a failure to recognize the tremendous problems of international diplomacy.

Senator Brewster called for a policy which would make for a stronger China, stating that a "strong China" would mean as much towards comparative peace the next 100 years, as the Mon oe doctrine has meant the past 100 years.

"America must become a part of the world picture in a more realistic way," Mr. Brewster said, "with diplomacy and military movements co-operating, not for the purpose of extending the ideology of America, nor to build an empire, but to help keep the peace of the whole world."

Music for the evening was by the Coast Guard orchestra, consisting of Francis Dagostino, piano; Russell Chandler, violin; Ray Williams, saxophone; Ronald Kendall, drums; and Edward Metzner, trumpet.

Arthur Larson, B.M.C. Coast Guard, stationed at Port Clyde, sang two numbers and led in the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Faith Berry was accompanist for Mr. Larson's two solos. The invocation was by Rev. A. G. Hempstead and the benediction by Rev. John Smith Lowe, D. D.

Mrs. Keryn ap Rice greeted the audience, speaking briefly of the aims of the inter-church group, and Mrs. Lawrence Miller, secretary, gave a concise report of the six meetings held at the Methodist, Episcopal, Universalist, Littlefield Memorial Baptist Congregation.

Temptation IN A TEAPOT

GARDEN of ALLAH Tea

ASK FOR THE ORANGE YELLOW PACKAGE AT YOUR GROCERS TODAY

DELANO, POTTER & CO., INC., BOSTON, MASS.

Meets In Augusta

Garden Club Federation Hold Its Annual Meeting Wednesday

Production and conservation of food is the theme for the open forum to be conducted by experts and Garden Federation chairmen at the annual convention of the Garden Club Federation of Maine Wednesday in Auburn. Mrs. Edward F. Merrill of Skowhegan, federation president, will preside.

Forum experts will be Prof. Roger Clapp, assistant horticulturist at the University of Maine and Agricultural Extension Service Specialist on Vegetable Gardening, and Mrs. Ernestine Carver Johnston, of Farmington and Vinalhaven, U. of M. Extension Service War Food Production Assistant for Androscoggin County. Mrs. Burton L. Preston of Fairfield, Citizens' Service Corps Field Representative in charge of Victory Gardens; Mrs. Gilbert F. Leobs of Waterville, Garden Federation chairman of Victory Gardens; Mrs. E. Stewart Orbe ton of West Rockport, federation chairman of Wartime Activities, and federation chairmen of standing committees, will participate in the forum.

The final program feature Wednesday will be the showing of natural colored films. Beauty from the Maine Woods, to be shown by Mrs. Cleora DeCosta Adams of East Summer.

A Regional Directors breakfast with the leaders of the seven regions as guests of Mrs. Merrill, president, will be served at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the DeWitt Hotel. The annual convention business meeting is called for 10 o'clock by Mrs. Merrill.

Presidents of all garden and nature clubs will attend the pre-convention meeting of the federation executive board members Tuesday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock in the parlors at the DeWitt Hotel.

Convention members will be guest of the W. L. U. Garden Club at the clubhouse Tuesday evening when a reception for Garden Federation officers, distinguished guests, and federation members will be held, and a musical presented under the direction of Mrs. Marion Payne Louisell, talented musician and immediate past president of the Women's Literary Union.

al churches and at Synagogue Beth Israel

Preceding the meeting there was a dinner at The Copper Kettle, honoring Senator and Mrs. Brewster. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Keryn ap Rice; Rev. and Mrs. Alfred G. Hempstead, Rev. and Mrs. Roy A. Welker, Dr. and Mrs. John Smith Lowe, Rev. Charles A. Marshall, Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon, Mrs. Gilmore W. Scule, Mrs. William A. Ellingwood, Mrs. W. O. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Ida Dondis, Mrs. Neil S. Perry, and Senator and Mrs. Brewster.

Ushers at the rally were: Betty Gray, Frances Snow, Ruth Emery, Betty Hempstead, Edith Carr, Jane Abbott, Shirley Bicknell and Virginia Bowley.

GRANGE CORNER

News items from all of the Parishes of Hallowell are welcomed here.

Penobscot View Grange of Glen Cove will partake of luncheon Thursday following its meeting. Sandwiches, cookies and punch will comprise the menu.

Limerock Valley Pomona Grange

A Woman Who Sees

Hazel Lane Describes The Beauties Of Field And Forest At This Season

Rockport, June 2. Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Knox County is one great arbutum. It is Lilac Week, even as last was "appleblossom time." The countless lilacs do not fuss for special soil, nor are they stingy with the white and purple blooms.

The Queen of the May came the robed wild pear, and made a fairy land of the woods. The shy white week of May 8. It was the white hobblebush blooms and the wild cherry blossoms were the maids in waiting in her train.

We may not have the laurel, but the last week of May the pastures were gay with the rosy rhodora, reminding us annually of the lovely lines of Emerson's poem, "The Rhodora," which some times a rural school recites to me at this season.

As usual I found my first daisy and clover in Cushing. It was June 1. With the Anderson School in North Warren closed this year, I am missing the fields of wild geranium.

Hazel N. Lane.

meets Saturday with Pleasant River Grange of Vinalhaven. The boats leaves McLeon's Wharf in Rockland at 9:30 a. m. Guest speaker will be County Attorney Stuart C. Burgess.

Limerock Valley Pomona Grange will meet with Pleasant River Grange, Vinalhaven June 10. The boat will leave McLeon's wharf at 9:30.

The Dorcas Club observed the birthday of one of its members at the home of Mrs. W. O. Fuller yesterday afternoon.

Karl M. Leighton is spending a week's vacation at Moosehead Lake.

SPRING BEAUTY

At a Price That Is Sure To Please You INDIVIDUALIZED OIL PERMANENTS $5

Including Razor Cut, Shampoo, and Set

Gilberts Beauty Salon

PHONE 142 375 MAIN ST. ROCKLAND, ME.

4874

SCOTT'S Representatives Will Be At

CUTLER'S

Wednesday, June 7

DON'T WAIT!

BRING IN YOUR FURS and your other winter garments TO SCOTT FRIGID STORAGE

Only 1% OFF

Minimum Furs $150, $150 valuation Cloth Coats $100, $100 valuation

Now only 1% Off You save one-half and more.

Invest By BRINGING IN Your Furs Today! Save Your Winter Garments For Years Of Longer Wear.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS

President Bixler of Colby College will be the speaker at graduation, Wednesday, June 21.

Playing in the city band, Memorial Day, were Albert Havener, Franklin Bladell and Ervin Wooster from Senior High and Robert Chatto from Junior High.

Doris McIntyre, of the commercial department, has a position in the office at Woolworth's.

The Drum Corps, which had a very successful year in 1942 has been reorganized. Those who belong from the school are Ernest Munro, Richard Munro, Charles Philbrook, Donald Kelsey, Douglas Curtis, Earle Smith, Dale Lindsey, and Oscar Flint, who make up the drum section. The buglers are Vance Norton, Jr., Hazes Sawyer, Ervin Wooster, Gordon Anderson, Harold Wiggins, Curtis Lindsey, Harold Axtell and Dennis Trask. The officers are Vance Norton, Jr., captain; Hazes Sawyer, 1st lieutenant; Douglas Curtis, 2nd lieutenant; Ernest Munro, sergeant drummer; Curtis Lindsey, sergeant bugler; Charles Philbrook, treasurer; and Dale Lindsey and Ervin Wooster, bouncers. There will be a meeting of this group Sunday, at 2 p. m., and any boy who is interested, will please come to this meeting.—Vance Norton, Jr.

A very interesting section of the Library this year is the Bulletin Board where timely subjects are always on display. This week it is filled with pictures of famous writers. Librarians in charge of the board this year are Celia Herrick and Jane Abbott.

A special Pitt Parker assembly was presented to Senior and Junior High Friday afternoon by Dr. Harry C. White, who had spent 14 years with Thomas Edison. His talk and demonstration was about the progress of science, and he showed in an interesting manner how sound travels on light waves, and produced sound by light, and light by sound. To prove that the human eye does not see all things, he showed some ordinary pieces of cloth in natural light and then put a special light on them, transforming them into things of great beauty. He demonstrated the electric car which can reproduce the human voice from the different prices on the body. After showing these scientific marvels, Dr. White said, "I sometimes wonder what they will do next with practically nothing." He is now a teacher at Pensacola, Florida.—Joan Abbott.

Pupils taking the driving course for the current three weeks are Jane Abbott, Sylvia Adams, Sandra Hallowell, Virginia Farrell, Helen Manchester, Florence Knight, Lois Benner, Fred Lahmi, Leo Connellan, William McLellan, Richard Payson, Vina Delmonico, Norma Blom, Geraldine Jackson, Fred S. Allen, William Woodman, Robert McWilliams, William Butler, Hazes Sawyer, Margaret Jackson, Bernice Stanley, Ann Tootill, Glennis Ames, Della Morrison, Mary Chaburn, Oscar Flint, Donald McLellan, Norma McTrillis, Elizabeth Sawyer, Douglas Curtis, Ruth Carter, Carolyn Candage, Nelson Pierce, Dorothy Drinkwater, Virginia McCaslin, John Lind, Patricia Adams, Benard Kuhn, Malcolm Shapiro, Dale Lindsey, Harold Wiggins, Gerald Bradley, Lorraine Iott, Betty Hempstead, Maurice Nute, George Morton, Charles Philbrook and Mrs. Ivy Hart.

The daily attendance sheets have been mimeographed this week by Elizabeth Sawyer and Norma Ramsdell, in the morning, and by Mary Stanley in the afternoon.

Pupils in Mrs. Colley's beginner's typewriting classes who have earned awards are Lucille Mank, June Ames, and Mary Watkins for typing over 40 words, p. m.; William McLellan, Marian Johnson, Faith Long, Earl Hayford, Margaret Mel-drum, Betty Hempstead and Frances Guistin, over 30 words p. m.; and Mary Chaburn, Donald Snowman and Florence over 25 words p. m.

At a Sophomore class meeting held Wednesday, the following committee was chosen to make arrangements for the contest: Kenneth Chatto, chairman; Betty Gray, Nadine Fuller, George Morton and Malcolm Shapiro.—Charlotte Cowan.

Lois Clark from the Junior short-hand class and Geraldine Jackson from the office practice class have assisted Principal Blaisdell in the office this week.

FRIENDSHIP

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patch and son, Eldridge of Stoneham, Mass., have opened their cottage here. Mrs. Patch and son will remain for the Summer.

Mrs. Charles Stenger returned Saturday from Huntington Valley, Pa., where she was called 10 days ago by the serious illness of her mother. Her son Charles met her in Philadelphia and they made the return trip home together.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps

Junior Vegetable Association Officers Plan Production-Marketing Contest

Discussing plans for increasing New England enrollments in the fourth annual National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association production and marketing contest are: (left to right) Wayne Ennen, Terre Haute, Ind., 1943 national champion who is vice president; Earle Parsons, Jr., Northampton, Mass., president; Grant B. Snyder, professor of viticulture at Massachusetts State College, advisory chairman of contest, and Miss Germaine Seelye, Wolcott, N. Y., secretary-treasurer. Boys and girls of 42 states have entered this year's competition for $6,000 in scholarships provided by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company for the association's contest.

"The Megunticook"

Camden High School A Sprightly and Fine Appearing Magazine

The current issue of that very attractive Camden High School magazine "The Megunticook" is dedicated to Miss Ethel Oliver "in appreciation of her loyalty and friendly co-operation." A page which will arouse a feeling of sadness on the part of all readers, contains portraits of Lieut. Ora Brown, '35, U. S. Army Air Force; Corp. Curtis Brown, '34, U. S. Army; and Aubrey Connors, '39, Cadet, U. S. Merchant Marine, and is in memoriam to those three young men.

It is the 17th annual edition of this school paper, the latest issue of which was produced by the following board:

Editor-in-Chief, Philip Wentworth, '44.
Assistant Editor, Esther Pease, '44.
Assistant Editor, Patricia Magee, '45.
Business Manager, Edward Burke, 1944.
Assistant Business Manager, John Williams, '45.
Boys' Sports Editor, Sidney McKeen, '44.
Girls' Sport Editor, Nellie Ames, '44.
Art Editor, Frances Dailey, '44.
Alumni Editor, Minetta Johnson, '44.
Exchange Editor, Charlotte Lunn, '44.
Editorials were contributed by Philip Wentworth, Minetta Johnson and Patricia Magee, with a poem "Prayer at Sunset," by Geneva Knight.

Pictures of the Seniors, mostly in a mirthful attitude, are shown. The class members are: Nellie M. Ames, Richard H. Ames, Dorothy L. Baird, Alfred J. Ball, Jay A. Bracey, Edward J. Burke, Dorothy A. Coathup, Frances L. Dailey, Doris E. Decker, Cornelia N. Duffy, Lucille H. Dwinall, Helen P. Eaton, Erwin L. Fitzgerald, Helen Claire Foster, Richard E. Freeman, Anna E. Galanti, Ida C. Gautesen, Audrey E. Grassow, Virginia A. Hart, Frederick O. Heald, Willis D. Hodson, Minetta Johnson, Thelma B. Judkins, Geneva O. Knight, Barbara M. Knowlton, Shirley B. Leach, Eleanor L. Leighton, Pauline L. Libby, Wanda C. Lunn, Laurie E. Mann, Sidney B. McKeen, Louis Nuccio, Flora A. Pease, Ruth Richardson, Dorothy L. Robbins, Evelyn M. Small, Charles M. Stearns, William W. True, Beverly B. Upton, Walter J. Wadsworth, Philip L. Wentworth, Joseph L. Wilcox, Richard Browne and George Young.

The school activities receive due attention, especially the sports department, conducted by Nellie Ames and Sidney McKeen.

After graduation, what? Well here's what's happened to last year's graduates.

Fredericka Amborn, University of Maine.
Leslie Ames, U. S. Army Air Corps.
Robert Bridges, American Woolen Co., North Vassalboro.
Leon Bryant, Knox Woolen Co., Camden.
Walter Bryant, U. S. Army.
Everett Collemey, U. S. Army.
Priscilla Crawford, Massachusetts General Hospital.
Marilyn Cripps, Mrs. Alvin Fisher, Boston.
Bernice Cunningham, C.S.M.R., Camden.
William Daucett, employed in Camden.
Pauline Freytag, Mrs. Francis MacDonald, Camden.
Barbara Gallagher, C.S.M.R., Camden.
Marilyn Greenlaw, Becker College, Worcester, Mass.
Ruth Grindle, Massachusetts General Hospital, U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps.
Beverly Grover, First National Stores, Camden.
Gloria Hansen, Pratt and Whitney, Hartford, Conn.
Goldie Hansen, Mrs. Albert A. Brown, Hartford, Conn.
Sarah Hary, Colby College, Waterville.

Gertrude Heal, employed by W. O. Heald, Camden.
Mabel Herrick, Cambridge, Mass.
Frieda Johnson, Mrs. Vinal Hardy, Hartford, Conn.
Rita Johnson, Pratt and Whitney, Hartford, Conn.
June Kelley, Mrs. William Daucett, Camden.
Norma King, Castro, Walsh C., Camden.
Frank Knight, U. S. Army.
Douglas Libby, U.S.M.A., Castine.
Herbert Mann, U. S. Army.
Ruth Manning, New York Modeling School, New York.
John McKeen, U.S.M.A., Castine.
Vernard Merrifield, at home, Hope.

Mary Meservy, at home, Castine.
Ruth Nickerson, Mrs. John Fell.

ANSWER TO CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ITCH DREAMY MINIMS
OARS ET ME IMPDS
LIE TARGETS SALE
T BASE TEES O
SPOUTS RELAY
ANT TRESSES
LE LEA E
LESSES EVE
LOTTO INFERS
SATS ARTS
STY REPAISTS POT
ITEM LI TA PARE
NEARLY LEARNS
ERRS LAST

ton, Camden.
Maynard Norton, U.S.M.A., Castine.

Esther Norwood, Mrs. Gerald Durkee, Lincolnville.

Isabel Payson, Hodgman & Co., Camden.

Alma Sleeper, employed at Maine General Hospital, Portland.

Margaret Thomas, Detroit Business University, Detroit.

Dorothy Waggatt, Pratt and Whitney, Hartford, Conn.

Norman Wellman, U. S. Army Air Corps.

May Young, Mrs. David Di Cello, Scranton, Penn.

ST. GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hill are spending several days at their home here.

Sgt. and Mrs. Philip Hazelton and son David who have been passing a few days with Mrs. C. D. Hazelton left Friday enroute to Westover Field where Sgt. Hazelton is to be stationed.

Mrs. Crawford Allen and children Crawford and Ronald and Mrs. Helen Hill went Saturday to East Hartford, Conn., after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hill.

Miss Faith Long and Miss Margaret Huntley of Rockland spent the weekend with Mrs. Walter Long.

S. Alfred Kinney of Wentworth Institute, Boston, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Emma Kinney.

St. George Grange is holding a special meeting Friday night to work the third and fourth degrees. A harvest supper will be served. Those not solicited will take sweets.

Pfc. Kendall Hawkins, stationed at Camp Ellis, Ill., is enjoying a few days at his home.

Mrs. Burton Ervin left Thursday for Florida where she will join her husband.

S. Nathan Fuller, stationed at Newport, R. I., spent Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. William Nuppala, who has been employed at East Hartford, Conn., is at her home here.

THORNDIKEVILLE

Wilbur Mills of Camden and Mr. and Mrs. John Pushaw were in Pittsfield recently, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jacobs. Mr. Pushaw's childhood home was in Pittsfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pushaw and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pitcher of Camden spent the holiday week-end at Lucretia Pushaw's cottage at Lermond Pond, East Union.

Recent visitors at Lester Merrill's were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Regier and children, Patricia and Sandra. Betty Rhodes of Rockport, Mrs. Wilbur Senter of Rockland, Gilbert M. Wheeler of Brunswick, Mrs. Albert Brown of Thomaston, Walter Tolman and daughter Llewella of Monkton, Md., and Mrs. Ernest Tolman of West Rockport.

Lou Upham is employed on mason work in Rockland.

Miss Mildred Webster of Somerville, Mass., spent the week-end as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childs.

John Pushaw, Jr., recently sold a cow and calf to Oscar Carroll of Rockville.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Ingraham of Brookline, Mass., were recent guests of Mr. Ingraham's mother, Mrs. Elenora Ingraham.

Mrs. Euda Lermond of Union and son Earl Lermond of Lynn, Mass., called Sunday on Mr. and Mrs. Lester Merrill.

U. G. Merrifield whose death occurred May 9 in South Hope, resided for many years in the house, now occupied by his brother, Linley Merrifield.

Mrs. Elizabeth Howard is in Port Clyde where she will spend the Summer with her daughter, Mrs. Sydney Davis.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps

The Memory Man

Does A Bit Of Soliloquizing And Meets An Old Friend

By Iree Member

As the pendulum of the old clock of eternity ticks off the seconds which brings each human nearer and yet nearer to the end of earthly existence we humans are, it seems prone to clinch that which is good in this old world and, like the ostrich, seek to hide from our sight the too evident existence of evil in the world by closing our eyes and trying to see only good while ignoring the evil.

I confess that this old pilgrim has been doing just that for many years and, while I am not convinced that my method is not a pretty good one, I sometimes find my faith faltering and feel that it might be better to refrain from the soft peddling of evil and frankly question whether the inhabitants of the earth are really becoming more civilized or more evil, brutal and wicked.

Or, well, why discuss the question? "When the Gods would destroy they first make mad." When all the oil and gas is pumped out of the earth, and the bombs destroy everything from the face of it, and so called humans are all exterminated it may be possible that a new race will gradually be born with minds devoid of greed, brutality, lust for power, thievery—and all the rest. (Well, we who believe in decency and right living (do as you'd be done by) must keep our chins up and hope. We don't know where we are going but we are on our way!

A spry old lady of 78 walked in on me recently and said, "Know me, Iree?" I said, "Hello Frances!" It was Frances Rackliff, widow of Elmer Rackliff. Hadn't seen her for a good 30 years. Elmer and George Rackliff were brothers—both dead. Elmer was only 46 years old when he passed on and left Frances with a brood of children to care for. Only Hazel is now living—the three other children have passed away.

Mrs. Rackliff was a tailoress. She learned her trade while employed by George Simmons, customs tailor who did business here about 60 years ago. Later, Mrs. Rackliff entered the employ of Knight & Hill, well known tailors who were in business here for many years, and she remained with them 25 years. "Frank" (as Mrs. Rackliff's friends called her) tailored the first pair of "whole fall" or "barn-door" trousers that Knight & Hill made. "Frank" was my next door neighbor when I lived at 69 Oliver street. She lived in the new house built by George Rackliff, which was later sold to Herb Winslow, who in turn, sold it to Mike Halligan. Mike's son now lives there.

Such items as the above may sound trivial and of no moment but when I about decide not to jot down any more of them I change my mind—I get too many cards, letters, telephone calls and personal requests to "keep your sketches coming Iree" to quit just yet.

Well, after all, aren't our lives made up of this sort of thing? Every day happenings, little joys, little sorrows, a smile, a generous act, a helping hand when it is needed, a friendly handshake? Few of us are destined to become great, rich or powerful. Our influence for good (or evil) is apt to be confined to a small area and little things count in all our lives. I have never regretted trying (at least) to "do as I'd by done by" but every time I have "slopped over" and departed from that rule I have been sorry. The actual happenings in the life of any person whoever lived would, if they could be written, make a "best seller" over night. No matter how humble, the life story of a human will hold for us an interest which fiction can never hope to equal.

He was a little moron—he feared he was going to die, so—he went into the "living" room!

(To be continued)

ROUND POND

John McConnell of Newtonville, Mass., Mr. Thacker of Needham, Mass., and two friends spent the week-end at the Redonnet cottage on the back shore.

Mrs. Amos Loud has returned home from Memorial Hospital.

The Fuller girls have arrived at the Anderson cottage to spend the season.

Misses Carrie Nichols and Mary Nichols have returned home after a Winter's stay in Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Brien, son John, and J. Henry Leeman of Portland were here for the week-end.

Mrs. Bathia Thompson who was with relatives in Dexter for the Winter, has returned home.

Everett Nichols of Rosindale, Mass., recently passed a few days here.

Women ...
CUTLER'S
Rockland, Maine
Super Values
Cast Your Eyes On These

Thousands of dollars worth of beautiful new SCOTT SUPER-BILT furs have just arrived from SCOTT FURRIERS of Boston!

DON'T WAIT!
LOOK THEM OVER NOW!
Representatives Will Be At Cutler's
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7

Prices that are so outstanding!
from $108 to $699, all furs
20% tax included

Sizes and styles to suit everyone's choice. These are furs you will be proud of. For your convenience you may still enjoy the famous SCOTT Payment Plan!

She's their Pin-up Girl

The boys in camp know how hard she tries to get their calls through

They are grateful for everything the telephone operators are doing to get them a Long Distance line to home.

They will thank you, too, if you leave the Long Distance wires from seven to ten for the service men.

That is the best time many of them have to call.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

Buy War Bonds and Stamps